

Thanks!

This is to you from the Victoria Times and on behalf of the Unitarian Service Committee for your unselfish help in the campaign to provide milk for hungry children.

The drive ends Wednesday. There may be a couple of contributors' names that have not yet appeared due to seasonal mail tie-up or other reasons. They will appear however Wednesday or Friday.

The campaign started at the beginning of December. Objective was to raise as much money as possible to ship powdered milk to hungry tots in Korea, India and Hong Kong. This is being done by the USC.

While New Year resolutions

are seemingly made to be broken, there's one resolution that can be made without ability to later wiggle out—posting a contribution to the "Milk for Hungry Children Fund," care of the Times office on Broad Street or at the Fountain Circle. There is still time.

BOOST TONIGHT

It is hoped the fund will be nicely swelled tonight when John "Around the World" Manning gives his illustrated lecture at Oak Bay Junior High. A collection will be taken at the intermission, with all proceeds going to the fund. The Times is sponsoring the lecture and taking care of all incidental expenses.

Milk fund donations acknowledged:

People and Things

(From Times News Services)
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mayor George Christopher's predecessor in office, Elmer Robinson, warred upon pigeons and gradually became ex-mayor Robinson.

Mayor Christopher, mindful of the wrath Robinson aroused among bird lovers, laid low on the pigeon question. But Monday it sought him out in the person of Councilwoman Mrs. Kathy Zahn, from Albany, across the bay.

She came bearing the scars suffered by the unwary in all exposed places in this city of gulls and pigeons. Something should be done; a pigeon had messed up her hat.

"The first time this happened I considered it an Act of God," she said, "but it's happened five times since.
 Some of these pigeons are nice and plump. Let's catch them all with nets and give them to the needy to eat."

The mayor shied, but promised, "I'll put my department heads right to work on this," adding, "But I wish you'd let me buy you a new hat."

"I have 19 hats. I'm noted for my hats," she said, as she marched, head up, from city hall into the plaza beneath the circling pigeons.

MONTREAL—Carolyn Ruth was crowned Monday night—as Her Majesty Queen of the Garbage Bowl.

She is to preside over a fancy football match on New Year's Day in Montreal West.
 But her title is too long. So she is just called Miss Leftovers.

BANGOR, Me.—Livestock dealer Robert Pepper complained in municipal court that he sold a cow to a farmer and didn't get his money.

"Do you want the cow back?" asked Judge James A.
 Mooney.

"Too late," Pepper replied.

"He's eaten it."

Mooney issued a warrant charging the farmer with stealing mortgaged property.

LONDON—Sir Winston Churchill sat back in a theatre seat today and chuckled as he watched another Churchill fly across the stage with the greatest of ease.

He went to an afternoon showing of the annual favorite, Peter Pan, at the Scala Theatre.

The big attraction? His daughter Sarah was playing Peter, the boy who can fly and never grows up.

SALT LAKE CITY—An apologetic lady bandit robbed a jewelry store Monday, apparently her second holdup in two days.

"I'm sorry I have to do this," she said, pointing a revolver at jeweler Sherman Wright. "But please put the money from the safe in a bag and give it to me."

Before leaving she looked calmly into the wrist watch case. "I'll take that one," she told Wright. He said she walked off with $30 in cash and an $89 watch.

A woman answering her description held up a filling station Sunday, telling the attendant: "I'm sorry I have to do this." She got about $50 in that job.

Suez Money Peace Mission

LONDON (Reuters)—World Bank President Eugene Black will leave London for Cairo Wednesday in an attempt to settle Anglo-Egyptian financial differences arising from the 1956 Suez intervention, it was announced today.

Meanwhile, huge increases in the financial resources of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund were recommended Monday by the two lending institutions to their 68 member countries.

The bank's authorized capital would be more than doubled—from $10,000,000,000 to $21,000, 000,000—but the new money would be pledged by member countries, not put up in cash.

 Monday a decision on whether to reopen Britannia Copper

RUSSIA AND U.S. SWAP TEAMS FOR EXHIBITIONS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia has agreed to allow the United States to send machinery, materials and workmen into Moscow to build an exhibition in Sokolniki Park next summer.

In return, Russia was given similar privileges in sponsoring a Soviet science, technology and cultural exhibition in New York City.

The agreement, signed at the state department in a brief ceremony, marked the first time the two countries have exchanged such exhibitions.

Union to Picket All N.Y. Police

NEW YORK (AP)—The Teamsters' Union intends to picket city police headquarters, starting Jan. 12, to dramatize a drive to organize the police into the union.

Henry Feinstein, a teamsters official, said the picketing would be extended gradually to all police installations, including 80 precinct stations, in the metropolis.

Feinstein said the picketing is aimed at Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy, who opposes unionization of the police.

"We are going to give the commissioner a taste of the economic force and pressure of the Teamsters' Union," Feinstein said.

"His threat to fire policemen for joining the Teamsters' Union makes him unfair to our union and to all of organized labor."

Feinstein is leading a nationwide campaign to bring all policemen, firemen and other state, county and municipal workers into the union. The drive was announced last month by Teamsters president James R. Hoffa.

Feinstein said the threatened 40-man picket line would remain outside police headquarters for an indefinite period.

Other picket lines will go up outside police depots and supply stations, Feinstein said, in an effort to cut off deliveries of fuel, and other items.

Feinstein, president of Teamsters' local 237, said Kennedy
 "will freeze in his office."

(FROM CP DISPATCHES)
ZEBALLOS—About a dozen people were safely evacuated Monday night when fire destroyed the Esperanza Hotel, a well-known landmark on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Only two brick chimneys were left standing when the blaze was finally struck out at 9 p.m. The first alarm was turned in about 4 p.m.

The three-storey hotel is located in Esperanza Inlet, about 10 miles southwest of here.

R. E. Drew, one of the volunteer firemen, said damage was estimated at $60,000.

HEPBURN 'LIAR'

VANCOUVER—Former world champion weightlifter Doug Hepburn was declared a hostile witness and called a liar Monday in police court here.

Hepburn, proprietor of a health studio here, was giving evidence in the trial of two men charged with indecent assault on a woman.

"This man is not only a liar, but a cheap one in my opinion," said Magistrate N.
 J. Bartman.

Hepburn, called as a Crown witness and later declared hostile, admitted giving a statement to police in which he said he saw one of the men grab the woman's legs and take off some of her clothing.

In court, he said he was "overwrought and disturbed" when he gave the statement and believed he had "misconstrued the whole affair."

NO PLANE CRASH

 cials for a noise which brought a rash of reports that a plane crashed into nearby mountains.

SKULL FRACTURED

NORTH VANCOUVER—A pathologist told a coroner's inquest Monday night that a skull fracture which caused a massive hemorrhage brought death to Mrs. Josephine Herrett whose body was found in the bedroom of her suite on Boxing Day.

James Arthur Mason, 40, manager of the roofing firm of which the woman was president, has been charged with murder in her death. He is scheduled to reappear in court
 Jan. 5.

Dr. T. R. Harmon told the inquest jury that besides the skull fracture, Mrs. Herrett had bruises on her head, in the armpits and on the abdomen, and one arm and knee.

COMFORT ARRIVES IN A BIG NEW PACKAGE

Meteor Montcalm 4-door hardtop, one of Ford of Canada's fine cars

Drive any of four new Meteor Montcalm models. A few happy miles and you'll know comfort has indeed arrived. And the package has never been more beautiful.
 The new Montcalm has a distinctive roofline that bears the unmistakable good looks of classic newness beyond its price. For the new Montcalms are only a few dollars more than the handsome Meteor Rideau 500's.

When you step into the new Montcalm you'll be surprised at the interior room and the look of luxury all about you. Here is move-around room for six big passengers. A real increase in headroom, even though the Montcalm sits low to the ground.

There's a big car feel to this newest Meteor—a result of a rugged frame and a quiet, solid body.

In fact, you almost regret a journey's end. Thanks to Meteor's four-way ball joint front suspension, bumps are absorbed before they're felt. A low centre of gravity makes cornering sway-free and controlled—another advantage of Meteor's Balanced-Ride.

Yes there's much to see, much to appreciate in the new Meteor Montcalm series. In styling; riding comfort, passenger room and performance, the Montcalm offers you classic newness beyond its price.

Blizzard Fury Howls Across U.S. Southwest

DUMAS, Tex. (AP)—A raging blizzard Monday buried New Mexico's largest city under its heaviest snowfall, stranded thousands of motorists and claimed four lives. And more snow hit the southwest today.

Fog Belt Snarls Cars, Air Flights

TORONTO (CP)—A wide belt of fog that led to the death of one motorist, injury to 30 persons, a spectacular 29-car collision and the grounding of aircraft began to lift from Ontario late Monday night.

The 400-mile fog belt spread from Chicago to Montreal and from Toledo, Ohio, north to Earlton, 30 miles south of Kirkland Lake.

The first Trans-Canada Air Lines flight in 24 hours from Toronto's Malton Airport left at 10 p.m. Monday for Vancouver.

Some flights from Western Canada were held up at Winnipeg and others were cancelled.

The weather office said colder weather and a slight blizzard were expected today.

George Bath, 31, of Orangeville was killed when a car collided with a truck near Toronto. One person was severely hurt and damage ran into thousands of dollars in a 29-vehicle collision on the highway near Welland.

Police said train engineer Kenneth Dave of Barrie saved 10 persons from severe injury by slowing his diesel to a crawl as he approached a level crossing on No. 400 highway near Barrie. Five cars had been involved in an accident at the crossing.

Winds up to 60 miles an hour walloped Albuquerque and whipped the snow into drifts of up to six feet, blocking highways across eastern New Mexico, the Panhandle of Texas and part of western Oklahoma.

Four hundred motorists — most of them Iowans bound for Pasadena, Calif., and the New Year's Day Rose Bowl football game between Iowa and California — were stranded at Tucumcari in eastern New Mexico when snow blocked all roads in the area.

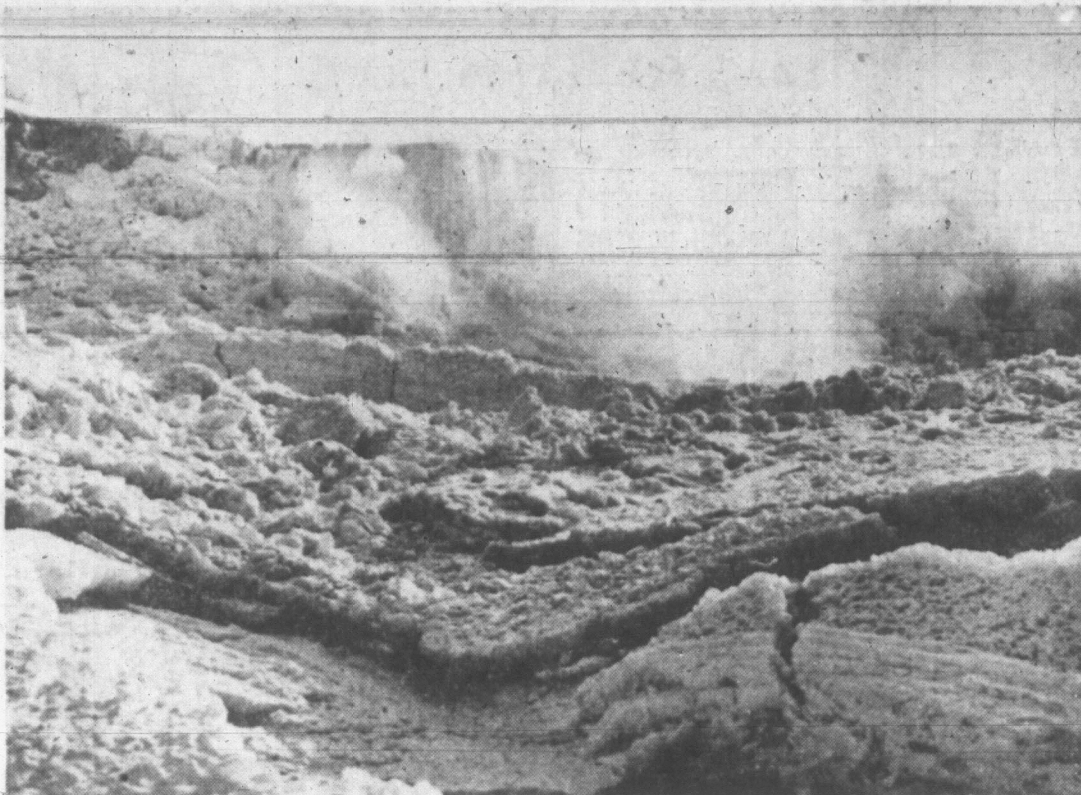

400 STRANDED

Another 400 motorists remained stranded today in this Texas Panhandle town after the howling blizzard drove a six-inch snow into drifts six feet deep.

The New Mexico State Police said approximately 1,000 automobiles were marooned on a 18-mile stretch of U.S. Highway 66 about 60 miles east of Albuquerque.

Hundreds of other motorists found shelter in scores of Texas and New Mexico towns as snowdrifts and ice made roads impassable.

The 11-inch snowfall that crippled and isolated Albuquerque was the heaviest in the recorded history of the city. Thousands of residents were without electricity or transportation as the howling blizzard knocked out power lines and blocked all roads into the city. Linemen worked through the night to restore service after nearly 30,000 of the city's 68,000 electric meters were knocked out by broken power lines.

FROZEN FALLS at Niagara have formed giant ice bridge of record size for this time of year on Canadian side. Although the heaving chunks of ice are a great tourist attraction, they're not welcome as electric power houses on either side of river have been affected. — (CP photo)

DEATH LEAP KILLS TWO

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A woman leaping to her death from a seventh-floor window fell on top of a pedestrian, killing him also.

Killed in the suicide plunge Monday was Mrs. Louise Stark, 41, who was despondent because her husband had received a jail sentence.

She fell on a crowded downtown sidewalk, crumpling Victor Angel, 44, a deaf-mute flower seller, beneath her. He died in hospital.

'TEEN COMMANDMENTS' LISTED

Choose Date Who Would Make Good Mate—Boy MLAs' Advice

Advice on selecting friends, as well as a wife, is contained in "teen commandments" suggested in a resolution adopted by the 28th Older Boys' Parliament of British Columbia, on Monday.

The rules, put forward as suitable for all of British Columbia's youth to follow, are:

1. Stop and think before you drink.
2. Don't let your parents down; they brought you up.
3. Be humble enough to obey. You will be giving orders yourself some day.
4. Turn from unclean thinking at the first moment.
5. Don't show off when driving. If you want to race, go to Indianapolis.
6. Choose a date who would make a good mate.
7. Go to church faithfully. The Creator gives us the week. Give Him back an hour.
8. Avoid following the crowd. Be an engine, not a caboose.
9. Choose your companions carefully. You are what they are.
10. Or even better—keep the original Ten Commandments.

The resolution said today's youth needs spiritual, mental, physical and social guidance. The junior parliament, it suggested, could lead the way.

Also Monday, the parliament's constitution was amended to permit smaller centres on Vancouver Island to send representatives to next year's session.

The move followed a flood of nominations from churches and youth groups in heavily-populated areas, resulting in Vancouver being represented by more than 20 members and Victoria by 10.

Nanaimo, Courtenay, Campbell River and Port Alberni, which have been represented in the past, this year had no members.

The junior MLAs will meet again tonight. The session ends Wednesday afternoon.

400 JOBS FOUND BY WORK DRIVE

Some 400 persons have obtained jobs directly or indirectly as a result of the National Employment Service's "Plan-It-Now" campaign to stimulate winter work, NES manager in Victoria, Jim Fox, said today.

"It's hard to assess the final results," he said, "but we are pleased with the campaign. It created a lot of interest in combatting unemployment."

"And we have fewer carpenters and plasterers on the unemployed rolls now than last year at this time."

The program enters the "Do-It-Now" phase on January 10 and will last until March.

Economy Requires Caution In 1959 Warns C of C Head

MONTREAL (CP)—Albert Ashforth, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, said today in a year-end message "caution" should be the economic watchword for 1959.

He said Canada's economy now is "headed in the right direction and Canadians can look forward to a better year, but while we have won the recession skirmish, the battle now is joined against inflation."

PUBLIC CAN HELP

The public, said the Toronto man, can help arrest inflation by "calling off demands for pie-in-the-sky."

When the public made great demands on the government there was little chance of cutting down government spending and overcoming deficit financing, factors creating great inflationary pressures.

He predicted unemployment will continue to be a "worrisome fact" in the New Year and the unemployment peak anticipated the coming March will likely be at about the same level as in March, 1958.

TRADE UNCERTAIN

He described trade prospects as uncertain with a substantial rise in Canadian exports probable "only with decisive recovery in our largest market, the United States."

"A slackening of business activity in the United Kingdom and Western Europe could adversely affect our exports to those areas, although it is encouraging to note removal of British restrictions on a wide range of imports from Canada."

A. C. ASHFORTH

HE SHOT HIS 'SANTA' WITH GIFT

PALMYRA, N.J. (AP)—Mrs. Jeannette Willard gave her husband a rifle for Christmas.

He used it Monday night, police said, to kill her. The husband, Edwin L. Willard, 21, was arraigned today on a charge of murder.

Police said Mrs. Willard had taken the couple's three-year-old son Monday morning and had gone to her mother's home. Willard went to the house and tried to talk his wife into returning home with him.

An argument and the shooting with the .22-calibre rifle followed.

PGE Joins Hike In Freight Rates

VANCOUVER (CP)—Freight rates on the British Columbia-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway have been increased 17 per cent to meet higher labor costs.

PGE general manager J. S. Broadbent said Monday night the provincial application was similar to one made by Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways.

"We have an understanding with the railroad brotherhoods that they will be granted a similar wage increase to that won on mainline companies," Mr. Broadbent said.

The B.C. government had opposed the freight rate application of the CPR and CNR.

Mr. Broadbent said the PGE boost, approved by the provincial cabinet and effective Dec. 22, applies on class rates on all non-competitive traffic.

In Victoria, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said:

"We are in the position the national railways found themselves in—we need more revenue to meet the wage increases."

Missile Base Pickers Choose Jail

SWAFFHAM, England (Reuters)—A court Monday ordered 46 anti-nuclear weapons demonstrators to agree to keep the peace for one year or face 14-day jail sentences.

Thirty-seven defendants declared they would not accept the keep-the-peace ruling. If they stick to their decision, the jail terms will be imposed within a week.

Eight agreed to accept the order, while one intends to appeal.

They were convicted of obstructing police while staging "non-violent" demonstrations Dec. 10 and 20 under the sponsorship of a group called the Direct Action Committee against nuclear war at an RAF guided missile base near here which is to be supplied with American-made Thor missiles.

Britain Gives a Lead

BRITAIN'S DECISION TO make the pound sterling partially convertible into dollars is bold and constructive but its practical effects cannot be judged in advance.

The new policy, it should be remembered, is not full convertibility. A citizen of Britain, for example, cannot take a pound sterling to the bank as he pleases, receive a corresponding sum in dollars and spend it in such countries as Canada and the United States. The new measure of partial convertibility applies only to pounds held by foreigners outside the sterling area.

This sudden and unexpected relaxation of British monetary policy is an extremely complicated business greatly over-simplified in the statements of some public men in Canada.

It is complicated by Britain's dubious relationship with the European free trade area, which it has neither joined nor yet refused to join in some fashion. The uncertainty of Britain's position in this large scheme, its long disputes with France and the uncertainty of the free trade area itself make any judgment on the latest currency move premature at the moment.

Money being only a symbol of goods, the important question is how far a partially convertible pound will go in encouraging the international movement of goods.

Some Canadian politicians seem to think that Britain will now permit a massive new expenditure of pounds, in the form of dollars, on the goods of the dollar area.

One might suppose from these statements that the currency problem which has split the free world since the last war had been completely solved. Of course it has not. Britain has gone some way in relaxing its restrictions on trade—a long way, considering its present resources—but it has not gone all the way by any means.

It cannot allow its people to buy all the goods they desire, wherever they please in the dollar area, simply because it does not possess enough dollars to cover these demands. It will not possess enough dollars until it earns them by greater sales in the dollar area. And it cannot earn them until the dollar area buys more British, or sterling-area, goods.

The exact amount of pounds held by foreigners and now made convertible into dollars has not been revealed but it is estimated unofficially at $500 millions. This, to be sure, is a substantial amount, but even if it is all used in the purchase of dollar goods it represents only a small fraction of Britain's total trade and is equivalent, indeed, to only a small fraction of Canada's trade.

But the immediate, concrete results of Britain's courageous stroke are probably less important than the conception behind it. The new policy, partial as it is, means that Britain feels a new strength in its own economy and those of western Europe and the sterling area as a whole.

It can take the risk of a temporary run on the sterling bank which it could not afford to take in the past. Remembering that its first attempt at full convertibility, soon after the last war, ended disastrously and was quickly abandoned, Britain is returning to that policy cautiously by degrees, as its means allow.

It could not have undertaken the present step unless it felt that the post-war emergency—and very nearly the bankruptcy of the sterling and European economy—were definitely ended, thanks in large measure to the Marshall Plan in the beginning and, after that, to the sound management of Britain's affairs.

It is a striking fact that Britain feels this new confidence at a time when the North American economy has not fully emerged from a sharp recession. Evidently the British Government judges that this recession will be cured not long hence, that North America's imports of goods will soon increase and therefore that more dollars will flow into the sterling area.

At any rate Britain, as usual, has given the free world strong leadership in the hard problem of currency and trade. That gesture should be answered in the dollar area by an equally strong determination to increase the purchase of sterling imports.

Of a Different Color

THE FULL FACTS ARE NOT yet clear on the controversy currently shaking Canada's National Gallery at Ottawa.

It appears that the Gallery ordered the purchase of two masterpieces—a Bruegel and a Lorenzo, as part of a continuing purchase plan for its collection—for a total of $440,000. The commitments were made on the understanding that Parliament had made the funds available. The Conservative Government minister concerned assented to the purchase apparently in the belief that the money for the two paintings had already been appropriated.

If this is so, although reports so far are vague on details, it is astonishing that confusion could exist where such a large expenditure of public funds is concerned.

When the order had been placed and the paintings acquired by agents acting under the Gallery's instructions, the Government discovered it had still to vote the money. Faced with a record deficit which daily becomes more serious, it was to be expected that Cabinet members would balk at this added expense. On the other hand Canada, through its national Gallery, was already committed to receiving the paintings from the agents and paying for them.

Thus the situation stands, and may remain so until next May when the Gallery board of governors meets.

The predicament of the Government is understandable—the political repercussions that might follow a vote of nearly half a million dollars for paintings while unemployment and the federal deficit mount are not to be underestimated. On the other hand Canada's Gallery has been left in the position of abandoning its agents after they had bought the works of art on order—a reputation which no country would wish to acquire.

Chief Percy Ross

THE DEATH OF CHIEF PERCY Ross of the Songhees Indian band will be marked far beyond the bounds of the local community. Chief Ross, by his position and his accomplishments, had gained a wide reputation, and was one of the best known of his race in British Columbia.

His early years as an athlete, and his later interest in the welfare of his band and his promotion of better housing had endeared him to his people and carried his name abroad. In more recent times he had established an important annual event—the Vancouver Island

Indian Festival—and this has every indication of continuing as a major Indian sporting and cultural observance in Greater Victoria.

With the Chief's death another link with earlier days has been lost. Although he had lived only 60 years, he was a direct descendant on his mother's side of Songhees chiefs. His forebears had ruled for generations in this part of the world. It was Chief Ross' difficult task to try to lead his people into a new and complex world. That transition still continues, and will be the better accomplished for Chief Ross' efforts.

Footnote to Christmas

AS A FOOTNOTE TO CHRISTMAS—if the tired reader can stand it at this season of anti-climax—we observe a remarkable dispatch from Rome in the New York Herald Tribune.

It records the defeat of Dr. Angiolo Del Lungo, a forester and farmer, in his lifelong battle against the Christmas tree.

Dr. Del Lungo campaigned, in season and out, against the Christmas tree through his farmers' magazine, "Land and Sun," but the campaign is finished and lost.

For the first time in thirty years "Land and Sun" failed, this Christmas, to attack the Christmas tree as a dangerous drain on Italy's forests. Dr. Del Lungo knew when he was beaten.

"It used to be," he says, "that only the well-to-do families would have Christmas trees. This year in Rome two hundred thousand trees will be sold, one for every ten people! There's nothing that can be done about it."

Here in this land of forests we can understand what the poor doctor means. There is nothing that can be done about it. Except to burn the tree, with suitable safety precautions, in the back yard and count the days to next Christmas.

"... so we compromised as usual, Bette ... He's agreed not to have the phone disconnected as long as I use it for business calls only."

LOOSE ENDS

When Semantics Turn Politics Upside-Down

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

IT is fascinating for a Canadian, in a grim sort of way, to observe what the politicians of Washington are doing to the familiar political labels of Canada, the good old words "Liberal" and "Conservative." By Canadian definition, both words are being stood on their heads, a posture not unusual in politics, for words or men. But we have no right to complain about the chaos of labels in Washington when they are just as chaotic in Ottawa.

The great debate now opening in Washington is called a struggle between a "Conservative" President and a "Liberal" Congress. The President is "Conservative" forsooth, because he wishes to economize a little, reduce the present huge deficit, prevent inflation and save the value of the currency. The Congress, or a majority of it, is "Liberal" because it wants to spend a lot more, regardless of inflationary consequences.

THE semantics of Ottawa are just the opposite. There the Conservatives (Canadian variety) are spending more than any of their predecessors as a matter of strictly "Conservative" policy. The Liberals are demanding economy as a "Liberal" policy.

What, then, is Conservatism, what is Liberalism in modern economic terms, Canadian and American? No lexicographer, not even the great Dr. Johnson himself, could define those ancient terms as they are currently used. You may say that it doesn't matter, that parties, politicians and labels are all changing together like everything else and we can get used to them as we get used to anything from a toothache to the hydrogen bomb.

ON the contrary, so far as they affect the immediate problems of Canada and the United States, it seems to me that the labels matter a great deal. For in these days of fancy packaging, slogans, brand names, trade marks and television commercials many people read only the label—and believe it.

If they read that a policy of saving the value of the dollar is "Conservative" that label immediately smears the policy, in many minds, as a rich man's device to grind the faces of the poor.

If a policy of destroying the value of the dollar is called "Liberal" many people suppose that it is designed to save the poor and grind the rich. Exactly the opposite, of course, is true.

Nevertheless, the makers of labels in Washington have managed to smear the President as a "Conservative" (i.e. a stooge of Wall Street) while the "Liberals" pose as the friends of the poor while quietly robbing them of their savings.

IN Ottawa, on the other hand, an inflationary policy is called "Conservative" (an outrageous label on a fine and honorable word) while "Liberalism" is vaguely associated with the sinister "Money Power" and the rapacious bankers.

A high-minded and philosophic soul, like the present reader, doesn't have to be told that this jargon of labels means precisely nothing. Unfortunately, however, the electorate as a whole is more easily deceived.

It is so used to watching television that it separates politicians, like Western frontier characters, into the cowboys and the Indians, the good guys and the bad guys.

Gentle Echoes Linger

By ART STOTT

It was not for his professional competence that he won affection. It was for the personality of the man.

He hated sham. He could unstuff a stuffed shirt with consummate skill, but do it gently. And his whimsy was a delight. There was no bitterness in him.

When retired, high brass of the army would write pompous letters to the press, Tom would reply with other letters, signing after his name his First World War army rank, "temporary lance-corporal, retired."

Though he carried a limp, few heard him speak of his wound, or of the harsh realities of war. "You remember the funny things," Tom would say. "You recall the happy and silly incidents."

The world was his family and he tried, at different times, to crowd most of it into his various homes. Nobody in Victoria moved more often than Tom Merriman, or enjoyed the change of scene so much.

You'd go home from work with him, be announced at the door as the most important guest in the city, share shrimps and beer with the master of the house and then play ping-pong on make music, whether you could or not.

And you found in his home the joys of the care-free spirit and the unlimited affection that flowed over family and friends and found particular concentration on children and grandchildren.

In the hard days of recent months at the Veterans' Hospital, Tom faced the end with the quiet courage he had shown all his life. His one worry was that he was doing nothing others might enjoy.

"A man has to do something, or he loses his self-respect," he said as he turned out small pieces for The Times when his vacillating health permitted.

The last piece has been written. The ears that loved the simple songs hear them no longer. But in the quiet of the afternoon, when the paper has been put to bed, those who knew him and worked with him will catch some echo of a familiar tune and, listening, will think Tom is not far away.

Adventure On Senanus

By MARY L. PARSELL

JORGAN B. CHRISIANSEN and Knud Herboe who spent the night of Tuesday, Dec. 2, on Senanus Island, recall to mind a time when a group from Tod Inlet were all prepared to do just that.

This event took place about fifty years ago. At that time my husband, James Parsell, was one of the engineers at the cement plant and had to work twelve-hour shifts.

Keeping four children quiet enough to allow a man to get his rest when he had to sleep days was not an easy task, so for the good of all the family I used to take them out in the boat with Ruby and Roxy Caine, as often as could.

This particular day was a Saturday and the children were all at home so Ruby, Mrs. Scaife and I packed sufficient food to last for a day's outing, and set off for the boat about 10 o'clock.

The following were in the party: Mrs. Don Scaife and little daughter, Lillie; her house guest, Miss Alice Pratt, of Australia; Ruby and Roxy Caine, Manny Simpson, myself and our four children. Our boat, jointly owned by us and the Caine family, was 18 feet long, formerly used as a lifeboat, and was very seaworthy.

We rowed over to the beach below the old lime kiln, formerly worked by Mr. Elford of Victoria, and stayed there for a while.

Immediate Start

After we had partaken of our lunch we noticed a slight breeze blowing and as we were a long way from home decided to start at once.

However, we had not gone far before we found we could not make headway in the direction of Tod Inlet so headed for Senanus Island. We remained there a short time then started out again, but were forced to land on the point near Dr. Fraser's home.

Then Roxy Caine and our eldest girl, Ella, proposed to walk home from there and get help. After about twenty minutes they returned and assured us there was no wind on the landside. Once more we loaded our boat and started off but soon found the water too rough, so again headed for Senanus.

That was one of the worst experiences of my life as we did not dare to change places in the boat, and Roxy and Manny had hard work to keep going.

The boat was shipping water all the time and some of us were plenty wet during the trip. Two persons were kept busy bailing as the huge waves splashed over us.

Calm and Brave

The two rowers were wonderful but almost exhausted ere we reached shelter. I shall never forget how calm and brave everyone was during this ordeal. Naturally the two youngest children whimpered a little but no doubt our faces at that time were enough to frighten them.

After we reached Senanus we built a fire and had our supper, then we hung the table cloth on a couple of poles at the end of the island as a signal to any seeking us. It was about 7 o'clock, and in the meantime my husband had notified Mr. Losee of our absence.

At last we saw a launch coming out from the inlet, but as soon as it hit the rough water he turned back; later learned this was Fred Chubb. The second boat came out, manned by Douglas Losee, but he too, had to turn back.

Rather Discouraged

By this time we were getting rather discouraged and feared we should have to remain there all night. Finally the huge launch owned by Mr. Rogers, of the B.C. Sugar Refining Co., kept anchored at Tod Inlet at that time, hove in sight, and with the power she had the man in charge was soon with us.

Old Harry, the Indian, who brought fish to us at the inlet, told me that he and others were watching us from the Reserve as we strove to reach the island and felt sure we could never make it. However, God was with us and spared our lives, and soon we were all safe at the inlet where many anxious dear ones awaited us.

Alice Pratt refused to go out in the boat again no matter how brightly the sun shone, and I must confess I never enjoyed those outings later, particularly if a breeze was blowing.

As Our Readers See It

Terrifying

Your editorial under caption "Toward a Crisis" in the issue dated Dec. 19 is alarming, and it is time that the ordinary citizen realized his plight.

The debasing of our currency and the savings of the small income person is terrifying in the face of these facts.

Take for example, the last convulsion of victory bonds. How many realize that the bonus was taken from the interest which was the yearly return of said bonds? Talking this matter over, a person made the remark, "Oh, I am not interested in bonds. My income is from getting my rooms rented."

How long will people be able to pay their rent?

What then is the solution? Shall the system now in operation be scrapped? What is to take its place? We have the intelligence to get messages from outer space but we have at the moment, men homeless and workless as sleeping on the concrete floors of churches in Vancouver. Is it the fruit of the manipulation of the many, the few, and turning "the house of prayer, into a den of thieves?"

Bad and Violent Tempers

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

A very intelligent woman tells me that in three generations of her husband's family there are many persons with a violent and uncontrollable type of temper. These people have made a "hell on earth" for their spouses and children. They can be kind and generous when they feel like it, and then for no good reason that one can see, they will explode in hate and rage against those who love them best.

My correspondent says that she inherited this type of temper from her father, but all her life she has fought it with all the strength she has. She knows only too well the pain and grief that is suffered by anyone who has to live with a person with such a terrible temper. The woman says that she has now learned never to permit herself to explode suddenly. In the old days when she used to strike out at those she loved, she always suffered terribly afterwards from shame and contrition and remorse. She knew, also, that each time she exploded she wore more thin what was left of her relatives' respect and love.

Alvarez

In the families in which a parent has a terrible temper, the children usually try to leave home as soon as they can. What is sad is that when some of them marry and get a home and children, they start inflicting the old family temper on their loved ones. In many of these homes, because of the terrible temper of the mother or father, the children can never be happy; they live on a powder keg and they never know when it is going to blow up. Many a divorce is due to the constant humiliation and distress that comes from a bad temper. As a woman with such a temper said to me the other day, "I never cared to marry because I knew no one could ever live in the same apartment with me; I even get violently angry at myself."

I can heartily recommend to all of my readers who inherited a violent temper, the behavior of the woman correspondent who, with great effort, has learned to keep her temper under such control that today it never hurts those about her. I know that some psychiatrists say, "Blow your stack when you feel like it, and have it over with; get your antagonisms and resentments out of you; that is good for you." No, I cannot believe that. Why keep giving in to a bad habit? That only helps it to fasten itself on you. Fight the habit every day, and eventually you will be free of it, and hence, so much nicer a person.

And remember this: remember how awful it is for the person who has to take a terrible bawling-out every so often. Remember what awfully mean and cutting things people say when they are blind with anger. People tell me, "Oh, I am over it in a minute, and it doesn't mean anything." Perhaps not to you, but it means a great deal to the poor unhappy person who is told some awful things about himself.

Anyone with a terrible temper ought to try to find out if there is any tendency to epilepsy in his family. A considerable percentage of the people I see with violent tempers have a masked epilepsy, and when I get an electroencephalogram (a record of the tiny currents constantly being formed in the brain) I find the so-called dysrhythmic records which are typical of epilepsy. The world is full of epileptics who never had a fit, but are a bunch of nerves, tensions, fears, worries, and antagonisms.

Before two dozen epileptics sit right down to write me an awful letter, I would ask them to remember that I know perfectly well that a goodly percentage of epileptics are sweet, lovely people. Some of them I am very fond of. To ease people's minds I will say, also, that I know families in which a vile and violent temper seems to be inherited as a defect quite independent of epilepsy. Anyone deeply interested ought to read the history of several generations of the kings of Sweden—the Vasa family. They were very able rulers, but each was cursed with a terrible temper.

Some of the patients I am happiest about are those in whom years ago I found previously unthought-of and recognized epilepsy. When I put the person on daily doses of one or two of the newer anticonvulsive remedies, these people were so much happier. Life opened up to them, and no longer did they fight even with their customers. One man wrote me that his sales' record had been multiplied by four.

If my own life were being ruined by a violent and uncontrollable temper, I would get an electroencephalogram made, and I would pray God it would show epilepsy because then I might find a drug that would help me greatly to make over my life.

Top Student Sweepers

won top honors in Vancouver Island school bonspiel Monday. Today's zone playdown, first step on trail leading to Dominion high school championship, will be played at Victoria Curling Club.—(Times photo by Bill Halkett)

School Curlers On Title Chase

Jim Gallagher's Victoria High rink, in command all the way, defeated Jon Slater of North Saanich 8-5 Monday to win top laurels in the annual Vancouver Island high school bonspiel.

Title Payoff Just Start For Champs

Eighteen rinks, including eight from up-island points, took part in the one-day 'spiel.

The Daniel foursome from Oak Bay captured consolation honors by defeating Alexander of Nanaimo.

Although the Island 'spiel is not connected with zone playdowns, the two winners meet today in the Victoria zone final.

Winner of the meeting between Daniel and Gallagher advances to the Island playdowns at Nanaimo, Jan. 10. Island champions then step into the provincial finals later in the month. The provincial champs, of course, move into the Canadian playdowns at Calgary.

SKI HEIL!

Good Snow For Outing At Brenton

Good skiing conditions greeted members of the Victoria Sno Birds Ski Club Sunday as they held their annual "turkey-dinner" outing at the club's Mount Brenton lodge.

Three feet of packed snow on the lower level gave 24 skiers an excellent surface for the first time this season and they made good use of the lower tow.

Conditions on the upper level are improving and it is expected that the upper tow will also be in operation next weekend, which will enable skiers to make a continuous downhill run of almost two miles.

Sno Birds will hold their annual general meeting Jan. 8 in Williams Hall, Broughton St. All persons interested in skiing are invited to attend.

TURKEY WINNERS

Ron Ferguson, Bob Clements and Fred Norsworthy were turkey winners in recent competition at the Cedar Hill Golf Club.

Four Steps Follow A Natural Pattern

This is the seventh of an instructional series on bowling written for NEA and The Daily Times by tennis champions.

By DICK WEBER
ABC Masters Leader

Although the three and five-step approaches may be used to good advantage, stay with four steps.

It follows a more natural pattern.

Since the approach may be broken into four basic components, let the steps, naturally coincide with them. The first is on the pushaway, the second is on the downswing, the third on the backswing and the fourth, or sliding, on the release.

In the three-step delivery, all of the action must be compressed into the three strides.

The bowler is compelled to force his way into the backswing immediately.

This is a very tiring approach and body balance is difficult to maintain.

If you feel that it is easier to start with the left foot, instead of the right in the four-step delivery, or prefer to take smaller steps, try five.

The extra step is a short one preceding the pushaway designed to start your body in motion smoothly.

Regardless of the number of steps, be certain that you do not rush to the foul line.

SMOOTH FINISH is demonstrated by Dick Weber, who is at completion of his last stride in a sound four-step delivery.

Start slowly and gradually add momentum to each step.

IT WAS STRANGE WAY TO SHOW FRIENDSHIP

VANCOUVER (CP)—Renee Brindamour, 46, Vancouver, was ordered to post a $200 bond to keep the peace when he pleaded guilty in police court here to a charge of disturbing the peace.

Brindamour was charged following a skirmish with Seattle star Guyle Fielder during a Western Hockey League game here Dec. 26.

Police said Brindamour struck out at Fielder as the player skated past his seat. Brindamour said Fielder struck him on the elbow with his stick.

In the ensuing scuffle, Brindamour wrestled the hockey stick from Fielder. Several Seattle players came to Fielder's assistance. Police halted the battle.

Brindamour said he and Fielder were good friends before the scrap.

Defending Champ Eyes Second Title

The finishing touches will be added tonight to the most successful Commercial Bonspiel in history at the Victoria Curling Club.

Finals in all three events will start at 7 p.m. and will climax five days rock-tossing that saw a record 90 rinks start from the hack.

Defending champion Wally Stubbs' Navy quartet will play Jim-Tang, Sunday Commercial, in the "A" event final. Civil Service rinks skipped by Dick Pick and L. D. Fraser will meet in the "B" event final, while Hugh Renfrew of Sunday Commercial faces Navy's Ron Webster in the consolation final.

CURLING COMEBACKS

Tang advanced to the semifinals after pulling out a thrilling 5-4 victory over Wes Young. Trailing 4-2, Tang counted three on the final end after Young missed an open takeout. Five ends, including the first three, were blanked in the game. Tang had an easy time in the semifinals, thumping Reg Chambers' Sunday Commercial entry 12-1.

Stubbs reached the final for a second straight year by edging Eric Barber's Sunday Commercial entry 10-9 after trailing 5-0 after three ends.

Monday's semifinal results:

"A" EVENT
Jim Tang 12, Reg Chambers 1.

Wally Stubbs 10, Eric Barber 1.

"B" EVENT
Dick Pick 10, Mory MacDonald 8.

L. D. Fraser 15, Cec Wright 4.

"C" EVENT
Hugh Renfrew 8, Gar Taylor 7 (eo).

Ron Webster 10, Art Jeffs 7.

Athletics Beaten

ALBERNI, B.C. (CP)—University of B.C. Thunderbirds downed Alberni Athletics 73-64 Monday night in an exhibition senior "A" men's basketball game.

Athletics, without scoring star Al Brown, were unable to keep up with the visiting Thunderbirds. Brown is recovering from a broken nose before joining Canada's national basketball team in the world tournament in Chile.

Osborne, with 19 points, was high scorer for UBC. Ken Larsen matched this for Alberni.

Spokane Obtains New Centreman

MONTREAL (CP)—Centre Ron Attwell, released by Chicoutimi Saguenens of the Quebec Hockey League, has been sent to Spokane of the Western League.

In 25 games with Chicoutimi, Attwell scored five goals and 16 assists.

There will be a link with the famous years of Victoria basketball at Victoria High School gymnasium when inter-city hoop competition resumes Saturday night.

Chuck Durgan, who has been bringing powerful Seattle hoop squads to Victoria since 1932, will be back Saturday with his latest collection of stars—the Federal Old-Line club.

Durgan, now president of the Northwest Basketball League, has a club packing a wealth of height and a pair of players who formerly toiled with Alberni Athletics—sharpshooting forward Ron Bisset and husky guard John Kootneko.

Facing the Federals will be the Half Way House senior team. Two preliminary games, starting at 7.30 and 8.30, are scheduled before the feature tussle.

Half Ways can expect to have trouble with six-foot-nine

Joe Pehanick, a terrific rebounder who earned all-Coast Conference recognition and honorable mention in all-American selections while performing with Seattle University.

Joining the towering centre to give Federals a potent one-two punch around the backboards is forward Russ Sheriff, a six-seven, 215-pounder who hails from the University of Montana.

Rico Parenti, one of the small men of the team, which averages six-three, will be remembered by many Victoria sports fans.

Parenti, stepping into a guard position at five feet nine inches, is a pitching star with the Old Line softball club that has made several appearances here.

Also listed on the Federals' roster are Mars Abolins, Bob Miller, Bob Smith, Don Moiseid and Tom Cox.

Victory would give the Federals a 130-yard, par-three sixth.

Today's players are more expert, better trained and more competitive.

"I think the prowess of old-timers has become exaggerated in the telling. They have been given a glamor that was often undetected in their day and to their generation."

Despite his long association with many of hockey's all-time greats, he disagrees with the old-timers who claim the game has deteriorated.

"You've got to live with the times," he said. "For my money, the seven-man game was slow compared with the modern game."

Aussies Lose Doubles Duel

Tactics Switch Pays Off; U.S. Takes Davis Cup Lead

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—The United States' Ham Richardson and Alex Olmedo made a dramatic comeback just when all seemed lost Monday to win the doubles over Mal Anderson and Neale Fraser and move within one step of recapturing the Davis Cup from Australia.

Behind two sets and their backs squarely up against the wall, Richardson, the No. 1 player in the United States, and Olmedo, the borrowed Peruvian, won an exhausting four-hour marathon, 10-12, 3-6, 16-14, 6-3, 7-5.

The triumph gave the underdog Yanks a 2-1 lead in the best-of-five competition and put them in a favorable position to clinch the international tennis trophy in the final singles Wednesday.

Olmedo, who scored a sensational first-day victory over Anderson, will play Wimbledon champion Ashley Cooper in the first match, while Barry MacKay will meet Anderson in the final test.

YANKS CONFIDENT

The confident American camp is sure the 22-year-old Olmedo, who is playing brilliant tennis, will whip Cooper, the world's top amateur, and make the final match a mere formality.

But even if he fails, the most rabid Australians concede MacKay, with his booming service, stands a good chance of licking Anderson.

It was Anderson, his legs wobbling from weariness, who finally cracked in the 81st game of the doubles losing his service at love in the 11th game of the fifth and final set.

First he netted a weak volley. Then two fine shots by Richardson made it 0-40, and finally Olmedo won the game—clinging point with a great lob. Fraser, who played well most of the way, smashed the ball at Alex's feet. The national collegiate champion from Southern California swung and the ball wafted over the Aussies' heads just within the baseline.

POWERFUL SERVICE

Then, Olmedo, with the sweet sweep of victory urging him on, unleashed the biggest services of his career, won the 12th and deciding game without the loss of a point.

The turning point in the match probably came after the Americans survived the hour-and-a-half third set.

Fraser had been the dominant figure on the court and his phenomenal service returns and killing smashes had enabled the Aussies to take the early initiative.

SWITCH TACTICS

But starting in the fourth set, the Americans began using the tandem switch at the net when serving to Fraser in the backhand court. Instead of the man at the net playing the backhand side, which is normal procedure, and the server coming up on the left, the netman parked himself on the same side as the server.

Fraser lost his effectiveness completely in returns. He was so rattled that in five services in the fourth set the Americans lost only two points.

Baliuk Snares Share of Lead

Stan Baliuk, Victoria forward who scored four goals while the Cougars were chalking up three straight Western Hockey League victories in their last three games, has climbed into a tie for the WHL goal-scoring lead.

Enjoying his best professional season after being sidelined with a broken leg at the tag end of the 1957-58 campaign, Baliuk has a total of 18 goals in his 33 games to share the top spot with rookie Murray Oliver, of Edmonton; New Westminster's Hugh Barlow; Don Chiupka, of Seattle, and Spokane's Earl Johnson.

Baliuk also collected a pair of assists in the three-game surge which carried the Cats into a second-place tie with Vancouver Canucks in the League's Coast Division to share 14th place in the WHL point race with 32 points.

SAVE, SAVE, SAVE!

"WHAT HAVE THEY GOT THAT I HAVEN'T GOT?" this young cutie seemed to ask Times photographer Bill Halkett when he photographed winsome Patricia Anne, seven-month-old daughter of Mr. and

... HERE AND THERE ... With NORMAN CRIBBENS

I hear the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) is preparing a monster haggis for New Year's Eve.

Shortly before the dramatic hour, the haggis will be wheeled into the Bay Street Armories and duly stabbed with a dirk wielded by Col. Jack Fawcett.

Then, as a bugler in the balcony heralds in the New Year, the balloons will float down from the ceiling. . . . The English may excel at Christmas but it takes a Scot to make a truly pagan New Year festival.

Do you believe in nightmares? I didn't until I dreamed of a racehorse running amok in the sedate Empress Hotel lounge. Said a learned Victoria psychologist: "The horse was a symbol of yourself. You wanted to run amok so, in your dream, you deputized a horse to do it for you."

Oh yes? That lively TV quiz program Tic Tac Dough committed a capital offence the other evening by announcing from New York that Victoria is the capital of Vancouver Island and is affiliated with Canada.

What was worse the program attributed this information to the Encyclopedia Britannica as the very last word on the subject.

Either they misread the encyclopedia or they got hold of a very ancient copy! Anyhow George Andrews of 5121 Cordova Bay had a bit of fun with Tic Tac Dough. He sent them a postcard:

"Who dropped the clanger—the M.C., the Encyclopedia Britannica or the man who answers the questions?"

This column is indebted to the late Tom Merriman for many revealing and inspiring anecdotes of life in the Veterans' Hospital—his last refuge.

With characteristic modesty, Tom insisted that his name should not be linked with these items.

Now he is no longer with us, I feel justified in naming him as the source of much that was clean and refreshing in the lives of those who carry on the battle of life within these walls.

To the end Tom was a chronicler of humanity at its best.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A 15-foot fall from a slippery steel ladder to an adjoining roof sent a 17-year-old sheet metal apprentice to St. Joseph's Hospital with a shoulder injury at noon Monday.

Ray Watson, 3209 Wicklow, later was discharged after treatment.

According to police who attended, Watson lost his footing and grip on the ladder at the rear of the Royal Bank of Canada, Government, where he was employed by Universal Sheet Metal Ltd., 586 Johnson.

400 at Funeral Of Songhees' Percy Ross

More than 400 persons, including Indians from throughout Vancouver Island and the Mainland, attended solemn requiem mass at 10 a.m. today in Queen of Peace Church for Chief Percy Ross of the Songhees Indian band.

Rev. Lewis MacLellan, who conducted the service, termed the turnout of remembrance "magnificent, absolutely magnificent. There were even people standing." The church was packed.

Cars lined the streets for blocks adjacent to the church, on Old Esquimalt Road.

A police escort accompanied the funeral cortege to Ross Bay cemetery.

Mr. Ross died in his sleep early Christmas morning, aged 60.

He was one of the best-known Indians in British Columbia due to his work over the years on behalf of the people of the Songhees band.

A provincial order-in-council has authorized a $3,500 Capital Improvement District Commission grant to complete floodlighting of Beacon Hill Park flower beds, City Hall was informed today. The grant will bring total cost of the project to $28,500.

General meeting of Victoria Aged Pensioners Association No. 3 will be held at the Legion Hall, Blanshard Street, 2 p.m. Jan. 6. The club will meet for bowling 10 a.m. Friday at 914 Yates and 1 p.m. Monday at 712 Courtney.

Two men each were fined $25 and $250 costs when they pleaded guilty in Esquimalt police court Monday to charges of failing to file income tax returns. George M. Stevens, 1035 Dunsmuir, was charged with failing to file 1956 return, and George English, 1037 Lyall, with failing to file 1957 return.

Victoria High School graduate Laurie F. Woollett, son of Mrs. H. G. Woollett, 624 Harbinger, has received his commission as a flying officer with the RCAF.

He graduated in the last class from the Advanced Flying School, Portage la Prairie, Man.

Victoria Metal Trades Council will pick a new president to replace Bill Felton, who resigned in November, when annual elections are held Jan. 27.

Up for re-election are vice-president Andy Manson, secretary-treasurer John MacNeil, and sergeant-at-arms James Moffat.

Wilfred J. Humphreys, no fixed address, was fined $25 and ordered to pay $48.51 damages when he pleaded guilty in Esquimalt police court Monday to willful damage under $50 value.

Police charged Humphreys with breaking a window Dec. 15 at 1163 Colville, property of Thomas J. Jones.

Retary Club of Victoria children's party will be held at noon Wednesday in the Empress Hotel.

Eighteen-year-old Levi Thomas Swain, RCN, pleaded guilty in city court today to being a minor in possession of liquor.

Police said Swain had a 26-ounce bottle of rum when checked.

"What were you going to do with it?" Magistrate H. C. Hall wanted to know.

"I was going to drink it, sir," Swain replied.

The magistrate shook his head and fined the seaman $15.

The Canadian National Railway Veterans' Association will meet Friday at 2 p.m. in the Knights of Pythias Hall.

Election of officers will be held.

Police charged Humphreys with breaking a window Dec. 15 at 1163 Colville, property of Thomas J. Jones.

Retary Club of Victoria children's party will be held at noon Wednesday in the Empress Hotel.

APOLOGIES TO NEW YORK TIMES

'All the Nude That's Fit to Squint'

The call is out for nudes. Victoria's art colony has, literally, been denuded: they want persons to pose in the altogether. This is posing a problem: No takers. Director of education and extension at the Victoria Art Gallery, Moncreiff Williamson says, "We have no one at the moment to pose for the 'life' classes." Plenty of persons will pose for artists, but they insist on attire, even partial attire. This cannot be, Mr. Williamson explains. Studies of nudes are an essential and important training for artists. There are, at present, between 20 and 30 nudeless students in Art Gallery adult classes who could benefit. Most are women. Male nudes are also needed. They wear trunks.

All "life" classes are supervised, the director points out, emphasizing that the entire concept of nude studies is "adult." Nude types must also be adult; but apart from this requirement they can be on the youngish side or, perhaps, somewhat withered. All is art. There's no shortage of nude models in Vancouver, Mr. Williamson says. And in England, where he comes from, buff models practically fall over themselves to obtain posing commissions. Pay here is $3 to $5 for an hour. "It's not easy. They must hold fixed poses for a long period of time." Interested posers may contact Mr. Williamson at the gallery.

Six Win Promotions In Pacific Command

New Hope In CPR Dispute

New hope that the long-simmering Canadian Pacific Coast Steamships dispute could be settled early in the New Year was voiced today by an official of one of three unions seeking pay increases from the company.

Denis McKeown, business agent in Vancouver of the Marine Engineers, told The Times he planned to re-open talks with the company "in a few days."

Last discussions between the union and company were held in August.

OTHER FACTS
Mr. McKeown said he based his optimism on the effect on the company of other pay settlements in the industry since the CPR dispute erupted in a strike in May.

"The passing of time since then has brought changes in patterns of negotiation which cause me to believe discussions now will be worthwhile," he said.

"Rates of pay have changed and there have been certain settlements which might have had an effect on CPR. I am more hopeful now than I have been for some time that we can reach agreement."

NEW FIGURE

The engineers earlier sought a 26 per cent pay boost, but Mr. McKeown indicated this figure had been changed.

"When I go into the talks I will reveal the figure then," he said. "I don't want to disclose it at present."

Before the strike, a conciliation board majority report recommended the engineers and Merchant Service Guild get a 19 per cent pay hike, but this was rejected by the company, which offered 8 per cent.

The guild is expected to go along with the engineers in the new talks.

Meanwhile, the engineers' president Richard Greaves recently made two trips to Ottawa in an attempt to urge the government to lift its control over the CPR fleet and bring the dispute to settlement.

The line is now operating under control of a federal administrator, which will end in arbitration if no settlement is reached between the parties.

Island Production Of Coal Lagging

Coal production on Vancouver Island continues to lag behind 1957 according to a report for November issued today by the provincial mines department.

Marked with the distribution of gifts, native dances and songs.

Old and time-honored customs will be revived at the potlatch.

The elderly chief will preside at an ancient name-giving ritual.

The grandchildren of the chief each will be given an Indian name which they will carry until they reach the age of puberty. They will then be given other Indian names to mark a second phase of life.

The chief also will receive from the family of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. David Martin, dances which belonged to her forebears. This is an ancient custom which follows marriage.

Handed down

Each Indian family has individual dances which are treated as family heirlooms. They belong to them and are handed down from one generation to another.

Chief Martin will be accompanied by Mrs. Henry Hunt, his granddaughter, on his trip to Alert Bay.

26 Officers Named In Half-Yearly List

Six Pacific Command officers are named in the RCN's half-yearly promotion list announced today by the naval headquarters.

Promoted from commander to captain is Raymond Phillips, commanding officer of HMCS Fraser.

Confirmed as captain from acting captain is John C. Gray, command technical officer. Confirmed as surgeon captain from acting surgeon captain is Walter J. Elliot, command medical officer.

Promoted to commander are: Lt.-Cdr. Vincent J. Murphy, commanding officer of HMCS Sussexvale; Lt.-Cdr. Robert W. Cocks, commanding officer of HMCS Antigonish; and Lt.-Cdr. George K. Inglis, assistant manager, engineering department, HMC Dockyard.

A total of 26 officers—20 regular and six reserve—received promotions.

The others are:

To be surgeon captain, Surgeon Cmdr. George W. Chapman.

To be commander: Lt.-Cdr. Reginald C. Hayden, Leslie J. Hutchins, Mark W. Mayo, Robert H. Falls, Bernard C. Thillaye, Donald P. Nash, John F. Frank, Carl W. Ross, Bernard S. Lake, J. L. Neveu, Robert C. Willis, John K. Power, John E. Morgan.

To be commander, reserve: Robert Graham Bell, W. Dangerfield, John G. Chance, Alexander K. Glashan, Harvey D. Hebb and Douglas W. Padell.

Briggs Fund Chairman Appointed

Jack Barraclough of Victoria has been named chairman of the trustees who will administer a fund being raised in support of H. Lee Briggs, former B.C. Power Commission general manager, in his appearance before the Shrum Royal Commission.

He was chosen at a meeting of the trustees over the weekend with Vernon H. Chadwick, the administrator of the fund.

The other trustees are: Air Marshal Sir Philip Livingston, Dr. Gordon H. Grant and Col. E. B. Westby.

Purpose of the fund is purely to provide money so that all possible evidence can be placed before the Shrum commission dealing with the power problem.

Trustees will not solicit funds from anyone, but will see that any donations made are used for the purpose intended.

All donations are to be sent to Chadwick, Beacom & Co., 227 Columbia St., New Westminster.

Near-Record Warmth Due Here Wednesday

Temperature Wednesday will hit a near-record 52 degrees, weatherman Bill Mackie said today.

Today's peak was expected to be around 48 degrees, and tonight will see a drop of only four degrees.

"This is much better than the average for this time of year—41 degrees."

Mixed with the mildness will be moisture, with light and occasional rain. Sunshine is expected to wink through Wednesday.

Fog was patchy heavy during the night, mostly at sea.

WHY GROW OLD?

Can't 'Fight It Out' 'So Cry It Out,' Girls

Today I am going to give you some quotes which highly recommend the feminine tear-drop—for sentimental reasons as well as for health.

Many physicians and psychologists feel that women need a release in tears occasionally. After all, a woman cannot "fight out" physically her resentments and anger as a man can, without great penalty in attractiveness.

Even if a woman raises her voice, she is in danger of being considered a fishwife or a shrew. I never have been able to work out in my own mind or to my satisfaction, why a woman is so much less attractive or appealing when angry than a man is. I will think this over for another few years and let you know what I come up with.

Well, here we go with some old thoughts for the new year; these authors believed in feminine tears!

DEAR ABBY...

A Little Too Common!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: For "Animal Lover" who wrote: "People can ask for food when they're hungry and tell you where it hurts when they're sick, but dogs and cats have to depend on humans." God wasn't as generous with some children as He was with animals. If "Animal Lover" was with me just one of the many nights I prayed my little girl could tell me where it was hurting her. I think she'd change her mind. My child is over 5 years old but she doesn't know me from Adam. If people have money and don't know what to do with it, there are an awful lot of retarded children who couldn't find a glass of milk if it was two feet away from them. I'll bet a cat could.

CHILD LOVER

DEAR ABBY: I could kick myself for letting this go on for 30 years but I kept thinking things would change. Have you any idea how humiliating it is for a wife to BEG her husband for every dime he gives her? I never knew what it was to have an extra penny in my purse. It is a war to get a little money for the collection plate. I never was foolish with money. I make all my own clothes (but I can't make my shoes) do all my own work and when a gift is due I can knit, crochet or sew it. Please answer this in the paper and give my husband the works. He deserves it.

DEAR SLOW: (and you WERE slow, Lady). You can't teach an old dog new tricks but yours could be a valuable lesson for others. Newlyweds should set up a budget, and the wife should have an "allowance" to call her own—even if it's only two dollars a week.

DEAR ABBY: How can a 13-year-old girl tell her own mother to please wash the dishes with soap? My mother just rinses them under the hot water and says, "That's good enough." My father also never washes the ring out of the bathtub after himself. Once I counted six rings. I've tried everything but it doesn't do any good. All I get is ridicule when I tell them to use soap. They call me "PRINCESS GRACE." What can I do, Abby?

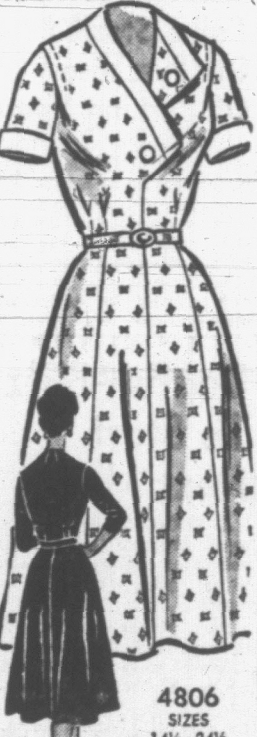

DEAR GRACE: Don't try to educate your parents, just quietly honor your mother and father and use lots of soap.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HONEYBUN: He's talking too many detours off the straight and narrow. Tell that truck driver to hit the road.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper, stamped envelope.

If you want a collection of Abby's best letters and answers in one book, ask your bookdealer to get "DEAR ABBY" for you.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Housekeepers Are People:

I can't help but write to commend you on your article about respecting housekeepers.

I happen to be one and prefer to be called by my married name. (Let's suppose it is Mrs. Hamilton). I object to being referred to as "the woman," which some employers do when speaking to others about me. Before I came here from England, I was a school secretary for some years and before that a shop assistant, but the employment agency here told me that because of my age the only work I could get was that of housekeeper.

So, you see, some of us have to take what we can get when we have to earn a living.

Louise Davis Answers:

Dear Mrs. Hamilton: How anyone can refer to a housekeeper or anyone as "the woman" is beyond my comprehension. It is as though she were a chattel or just a thing!

A housekeeper is as human as her employers and many times she has more on the ball! As a human being, she has the right that her human dignity be respected. If she wishes to be called "Mrs. Hamilton," no one should call her anything else. Her wish to be called that doesn't mean that Mrs. Hamilton considers herself above her employer. Her job is one thing. It can be anything from menial to that of an executive. But she is a person.

Bride Wears Handmade Gown

A hand-made ivory gown of embroidered tissue peau-de-soie she had made herself was worn by Saturday's bride, Miss Gillian Elizabeth Upward. On princess lines, the full skirt swept to a train at the back. The jacket was cut with lily-point sleeves and a Tudor collar. A headdress of mother-of-pearl sequins and seed pearls held the fingertip veil of nylon tulle, and she carried a cascade bouquet of red carnations, holly and white silver tufts. Jewelry was a pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the groom.

Wedding vows were heard in St. Luke's Anglican Church by Canon F. Pike. Holly, white chrysanthemums and poinsettias were used in decorations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald A. Upward, of Cedar Hill Crossroad. The groom is Jack Robert Abercrombie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmet Abercrombie, also of Victoria.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride walked up the aisle to organ music played by Eric V. Edwards. During the signing of the register Miss Amy Walton sang the Twenty-Third Psalm.

Red velvet dresses with three-quarter-length sleeves and scoop necklines were worn by the bridesmaids, Miss Ellen Gibson and Mrs. R. Clarke, and the matron of honor, Mrs. K. G. Smith, Vancouver. They carried sprays of holly and flower headbands and white shoes.

The mother of the bride chose a sheath-style gown of embroidered copper beige taffeta, with copper-tone shoes, purse and feather hat.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Abercrombie, wore French blue brocade with gold and copper tonings, a sea foam feather hat and carnation corsage.

William Kinsey stood as best man and the groom's brother, Daniel Abercrombie, bride's brother, John F. Upward and Garnet Webber ushered.

Scottish Regt. to Greet New Year

Bagpipes will skirl as guests arrive at the Bay Street Armory on New Year's Eve, where the traditional "Hogmanay Night" ball of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) will be held in the officers' mess.

The commanding officer, Lt.-Col. Jack Fawcett, and officers of the regiment, as well as many of the male guests, will be in full dress uniforms.

Mrs. Fawcett will assist her husband in receiving the guests, among whom will be Lt.-Col. and Mrs. L. W. Johnson, Mr. H. T. MacGregor and lady, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Bride Kneels on Cushion Used at Mother's Wedding

A white cushion which her mother knelt on for her wedding was used by Saturday's bride, Irene Jessie French. Scene of the marriage was St. John's Anglican Church, decorated with holly, poinsettias and white chrysanthemums. Rev. W. Valentine, Caulfield, B.C., officiated at the ceremony. Organ music was played by Fredrick Chubb, and Mrs. Arthur Huck sang "O Perfect Love."

Bride is the daughter of Mrs. John Edward French, 2529 Epworth Road, and the late J. E. French. Groom is Lloyd William Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Adams of Chilliwack, B.C.

Bridal gown of white silk crepe taffeta swept to bouffant train from large bow at neck. Bodice was designed in princess lines with lily point sleeves and a scalloped neckline of lace, embossed in sequins and pearls. The chapel veil was held by a band of orange blossoms which had been worn by the bride's mother on her wedding day.

A white Bible with white roses, feathered red carnations and holly was carried by the bride.

Bruce Grainger gave his sister-in-law in marriage. Bridal attendants' gowns carried through the Yuletide theme, Maid of honor, Miss Mary Caesar, Mill Bay, wore green velvet with matching shoes. Bridesmaid, Miss Dorothy Adams, Chilliwack, sister of the groom, chose red velvet for her gown and shoes. Candy striped carnations and holly in colonial bouquets completed their ensembles.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Cousins Christened

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knappett of this city had the pleasure of seeing three of their grandchildren christened last Saturday afternoon in St. John's Anglican Church. Canon George Biddle officiated at the ceremony. The principals were Cynthia Cooper Knappett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Knappett of Redwood City, Calif.; Junell Lynn Hetherington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hetherington, Haro Road, Victoria, and Christopher James Knappett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Knappett of Seattle. Following the ceremony the grandparents entertained at a tea for godparents and parents at their Craigflower Road home.

Holiday Tea

Miss Leslie Humber entertained at the tea hour this afternoon at the Beach Drive home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Humber. Silver boughs, flanked by silver candelabra centred the tea table at which Miss Sue Dilla-bough and Miss Susie Foster presided. Serviteurs were the Misses Trudy Humber, Jane Humber, Ann Donnell and Sandra Ross. There were 40 guests.

Coffee Party

Feminine members of the Uplands Golf Club gathered this morning in the clubhouse for a Yuletide coffee party. The lady captain, Mrs. Kate Dawson, was in charge of arrangements and assisting in serving guests were Mrs. A. W. Allen, Mrs. M. A. Creighton, Mrs. H. E. King and Mrs. K. S. Lawson.

Caroling Party

An evening of carols was enjoyed when Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Adams entertained at their Cadboro Bay Road home recently. Solos were sung by Mrs. Stuart Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Stanford and Mr. W. McKechnie. Violin selections were given by Mrs. W. McKechnie, piano variations by Mr. G. H. Peaker who also played for the carol singing.

Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Down, Sr., 1577 Yale Street, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Friday with a family dinner. In the evening they will entertain at an open house from 8 to 10 p.m. The couple were married in London, Eng., in St. Mary's Church, and have been living in Victoria for the past 48 years. A son, Lt. Comdr. Albert Down, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. G. Piercy, Vancouver, will be with their parents for the occasion. A younger son, Lieut. John Down, in Ottawa, will be unable to attend.

PRAIRIE CLUB TOUR TO SAN DIEGO

By Greyhound, January 24. The Prairie Club will leave Victoria by C.P.R. boat at 8.30 a.m., January 24, 1939, for Seattle connecting by Greyhound bus to San Diego with stop-overs each night, returning via Laguna Beach, Santa Barbara, and San Francisco.

This 14-day Group tour costs $140 each, Double, Twins and Singles a little higher.

You may remain in San Diego at a nice hotel for one additional month at $100 extra for two people, 12th bedroom.

The Membership Fee is $1.00. An introduction party will be held on January 21. Entertainment and tea will be served. Make your reservations now.

Argentina Pays For High Living With Austerity

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina today faced two years of austerity in an effort to recover prosperity burned up by living beyond her income.

QUINTS AGAIN AND MAMA IS A TIGER

SEATTLE (AP) — Another set of Seattle quintts can say: "Mama is a tiger." Bengal tigress Sultana of the Woodland Park Zoo came through with a day-late Christmas present of her second set of five cubs within 13 months. One was still-born.

And a valuable gift it was—each cub is valued at $1,000. Sultana's first crop of quintts came on Thanksgiving Day, 1957. Two still are at the zoo, two were shipped to the Dominican Republic and one now is mascot for Louisiana State University.

Sultana was born in the jungles of Thailand seven years ago. Tongoo, the father, is a native of Burma.

Amazing Find

Greeks Had 'Space Kit' In 65 B.C.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 2,000-year-old working model of the solar system has been identified in a Greek museum. "Finding a thing like this is like finding a jet plane in the tomb of King Tut," reported Dr. Derek J. Price of Cambridge, England, and the Institute of Advanced Studies at Princeton, N.J.

It seems to exhibit a stage of technological development perhaps more advanced than that of Europe in the 18th century, he told a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The curious old relic was brought up from the depths of the Mediterranean by sponge fishermen on Easter Day, 1900. But it remained an object of curiosity in the Greek National Museum in Athens until it was identified this year by Dr. Price.

It is a highly precise mechanical model of the earth, sun, moon and planets, fashioned about 65 B.C.

It includes an intricate and precise set of gears, made to be turned by means of a small crank, keeping each heavenly body in proper position.

President Arturo Frondizi outlined the program in a nationwide broadcast Monday night. He said it would mean higher prices, less meat and consumer goods, fewer government jobs and more free enterprise.

Frondizi in effect devalued the peso by freeing it from exchange controls to find its own level. It had been fixed at 18 to the U.S. dollar but traded unofficially at 68. The change will increase prices of imported goods and eventually of domestic goods.

At the same time a $329,000 aid program for Argentina was announced in Washington. The money is being supplied by the International Monetary Fund which had urged freeing the peso as a necessary step to economic recovery, and by three U.S. government agencies and 11 private banks.

Frondizi warned that Argentina must cure her own economic ills because foreign aid alone cannot do it.

"During the next 24 months the living standard of all Argentines will decline for the simple reason that we cannot continue consuming at a higher rate than we are producing," he said.

Prodigal Peron

Argentina, once a prosperous exporter of wheat and beef, began living beyond her means under dictator Juan Peron in the late 1940's. To appease the workers, he kept raising wages until Argentina was eating up much of the surplus she had previously exported to pay for industrial goods.

The workers still are a powerful political factor which provisional governments have hesitated to cross since Peron was ousted by a military coup in 1955. But mounting foreign debts and the inability of Argentina to modernize herself without further outside help forced action by Frondizi, who was elected last February.

Chinese Benevolent Head Gets 12th Term

VANCOUVER (CP)—Foon Sien, popular unofficial spokesman for Vancouver's Chinese community, was elected president of the Chinese Benevolent Association Sunday for his 12th term. "I am pleased," he said, "but I want to step down as soon as there is someone new who wants to do the job."

WEIRD TORONTO CHASE

U.S. Bank Suspects Nabbed in Cab Game

TORONTO (CP) — Three Americans suspected of robbing a South Carolina bank of $29,000 Christmas Eve were picked up by police early today after a weird game of follow-the-leader through darkened streets.

Officers took the occupants of two parked cars into custody when a .45-calibre automatic was found in one of the vehicles.

An old suit box with two bullet holes in it was later discovered in one of the cars. It contained more than $11,000 in U.S. currency.

Police declined to identify the men or give any details of the arrest. However, it was learned they were in telephone conversation with authorities in Florence, S.C., scene of a bank holdup by three men last Wednesday.

Harvey Russell, whose taxi was used as one of the cars in the drive, told reporters he drove an erratic course through the west end of the city on orders of a single passenger while two men followed in a second car. He was able to tip his dispatcher by radio that trouble was brewing and police intercepted the two autos.

Russell's passenger told officers the men in the second car were cab drivers who had brought him here from Detroit for $75. He said they were demanding more money.

As the three men were being taken to headquarters Russell discovered the money in his cab. He chased after police, handed over the box and went home.

'IRISH' COLONEL DIES AFTER HOSPITAL SNUB

TORONTO (CP)—Lt. Col. Liege C. H. Payne, who commanded Toronto's Irish Regiment of Canada in Europe during the Second World War, died Sunday of yellow jaundice.

Col. Payne died in East General Hospital where he was taken Dec. 19 after being refused admission to Sunnybrook Military Hospital because "his illness could not be attributed to his services during the war."

Dr. J. D. Kinsman, assistant superintendent of Sunnybrook, said Col. Payne was refused admittance there because the examining doctor felt his was not an emergency case.

MARK TRAIL

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngsters who ask the first question answered each day receive a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Dennis Fitzgerald, age 12, of College Park, Ga., for his question:

How do they find buried oil?

In 1947 the people of Leduc, Alberta, rejoiced to learn that oil had been discovered nearby. The first gusher burst forth and a great oil field was tapped. But few realized the amount of scientific study, the tireless patience and the millions of dollars which had made the discovery possible. It had taken 30 years of scientific exploration and 134 fruitless wells before the rich underground reservoir had been tapped.

We hear wonderful tales of so-called wildcat strikes striking a gusher on the first or second try with only their instincts to lead them. Some of these tales are true. After all, it is not absolutely impossible to find a needle in a haystack. But most of the world's oil is found by patience and proper research. It may cost a quarter of a million dollars to drill a well. And no sensible person risks this kind of

Fossils Tell Story of Past

A paleontologist comes along to study the fossils present in the rocks. If he finds fossils of ancient marine life, small as a pinpoint or big as an apple, the region was once an ancient sea, and oil may or may not be trapped below.

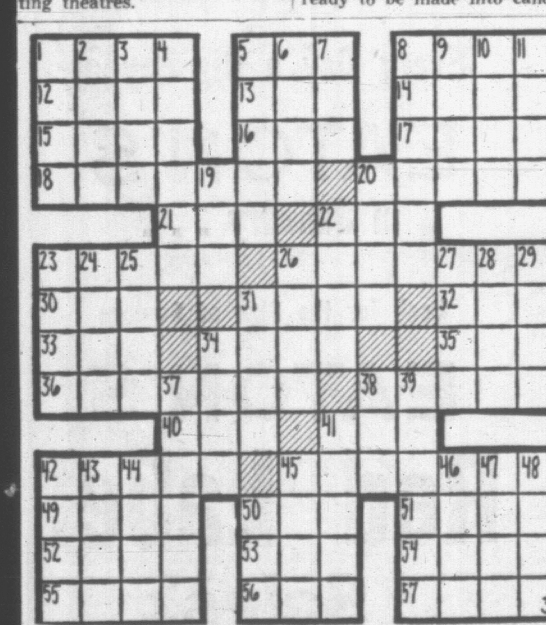

The most careful map can tell only where oil might be buried. More exact information is needed before a sensible person will start to drill. An expert called a geophysicist comes into the picture. He uses instruments to try to detect the buried treasure.

One instrument is the gravity meter, which registers the slightest variations of gravity on the earth's surface. This sensitive instrument reveals where layers of sedimentary rock are buried below. Another is the magnetometer, which shows the slightest variations in the earth's magnetic

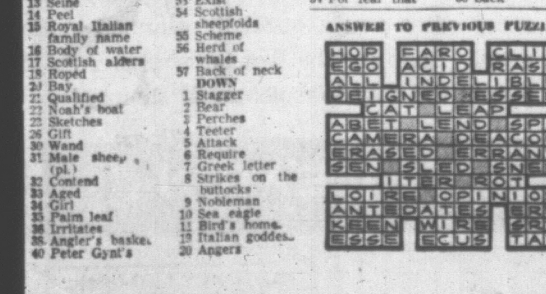

Russians Claim Cure for Ulcers

LONDON (Reuters) — The Russian Academy of Sciences has developed a new chemical substance that can cure gastric and duodenal ulcers in from two to three weeks, the Soviet news agency Tass said today.

Tass also claimed the balm helped to cicatrize skin over old and new wounds, burns and frostbite and can be used to disinfect the air in operating theatres.

SHIPS REMAIN ALERTED FOR FOUR BALLOONISTS

LONDON (AP) — Expedition organizers said today they still have no word about the four adventurers missing over the Atlantic in the balloon Small World.

Although 12 days have passed since any message was received, friends of the crew have not given up hope. Ships between the Canary Islands and South America still are on the lookout for any sign of the British expedition.

The Small World left the Canaries Dec. 12—18 days ago. They hoped to cross the Atlantic, blown along by the trade winds, in about 17 days.

'Hands Off' Berlin, West Tells Mr. K

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States, Britain and France today sent to Moscow their firm rejection of Russia's demand that the Western Big Three get out of Berlin by June 1.

State department spokesman Joseph W. Reap announced that the "Hands-off-Berlin" notes have been sent to the Russian capital and said they are expected to be delivered to the Soviet government shortly.

The Western notes were drafted during a month-long series of consultations in Washington, London, Paris and Bonn. They flatly turn down Russia's near-ultimatum that the West pull out of West Berlin by June 1 and let it become a free city.

Russia has warned that failure to withdraw would mean that the Western powers would have to deal with the East German Communist regime, which they refuse to recognize.

RETIREMENT of Ontario Premier Leslie Frost is strongly rumored in Toronto. Speculation is that Frost, 63, will quit after next provincial election, likely in June.

5 Die in Rio Plane Crash

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters)—A twin-engine Brazilian airliner with at least 30 persons aboard crashed today in Rio Bay shortly after take-off and sank about 300 yards offshore.

Five persons aboard were killed and 15 injured. The fatalities included two women and two children.

A launch from a nearby yacht club raced to the scene and rescued many of the passengers.

Eyewitnesses said the airliner had just taken off when it made a strange noise—apparently coming from one engine. They said the pilot was trying to circle and land again when his wingtip hit the water.

Mother Planned To Do It Herself

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan once planned to kill her pregnant daughter-in-law with her own hands, a neighbor told a secret grand jury hearing.

The district attorney released the grand jury transcript to the press today moments before Mrs. Duncan was led into a jammed courtroom and arraigned for the murder of her son's wife.

Two laborers who have confessed the strangulation of attractive Olga Duncan were not in court. The judge assigned two attorneys to represent them.

Mrs. Emma Shortt, 83, told the grand jury that Mrs. Duncan had asked her to lure the daughter-in-law to Mrs. Shortt's apartment.

CHOKE AND POISON

Mrs. Shortt, who lived in the same building as Mrs. Duncan, testified:

"When she got her in my apartment, she would have her sit in a chair that is against my closet. Mrs. Duncan would be in the closet. She would take a rope and put it around her (Olga's) throat and choke her. She would throw this poison in her eyes."

Mrs. Shortt said she indignantly refused to take part in the plot. She also told the jurors that Mrs. Duncan's son, Frank Duncan, was very much in love with his wife.

Mrs. Duncan's next court appearance was set for Jan. 6.

Meanwhile, a car-hop said Monday that early last month Mrs. Duncan approached her with an offer to kill Olga.

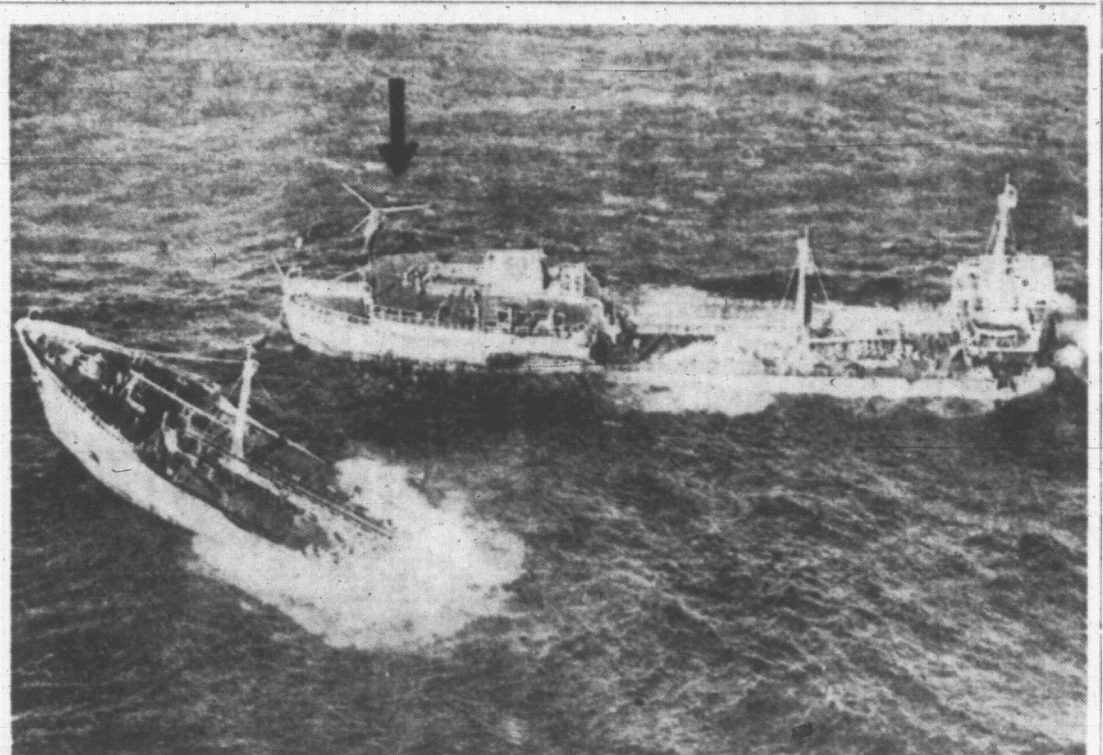

Mrs. Barbara Jean Reed, 26, giving details of her testimony before the Ventura County grand jury, refused to tell reporters the amount Mrs. Duncan offered.

"I can disappear, too, you know," said Mrs. Reed. "I can't talk too much." She did not elaborate.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Father in heaven, we pray for forgiveness of those of us who mistreat children. We know the future of our children will be determined in a large degree by the attitudes, concepts, and skills they learn from their elders. Help us all to be patient with their immaturities and deficiencies. May we set them good examples in our daily lives and help them to grow in Christian virtues; for Jesus' sake. Amen.

'We're at Doors of Triumph' Battling Cuba Rebels Claim

Airlift From Broken Tanker

Oil-tanker African Queen, with 47 aboard, split in half today after grounding off Ocean City, Md. Fleet of helicopters airlifted 45 men to safety. Daring Raiders Hit Ammo Dump

(From Times News Services)

HAVANA, Cuba — Cuban rebels struck into the heart of Havana province today with a daring raid on an explosives depot in which they dynamited the huge stores of ammunition they could not carry away.

The raid on a privately-owned explosives depot at Guanabacoa across the bay from Havana followed rebel claims to have smashed government forces in central and eastern Cuba. The rebels were boasting they were "at the doors of triumph."

Government sources disputed the sweeping rebel claims but admitted there was heavy fighting around the city of Santa Clara in central Cuba where the rebels have claimed major successes in street fighting.

The army said its forces were on the offensive in central Cuba and were driving the rebels ahead of them despite rebel propaganda broadcasts to "create unrest."

There were rumors that seven soldiers on guard duty died in the ammunition depot explosion. Windows were broken over a wide area.

Two smaller blasts were reported in the southern part of Havana.

Rebel sympathizers here say they have 5,000 armed partisans within the city. They declared there would be startling developments soon in Havana regardless of the outcome of rebel leader Fidel Castro's battle to seize Santa Clara and cut Cuba in two.

Fierce house-to-house fighting apparently persisted today in that capital of central Las Villas province.

12-OZ. DOLL BABY DIES

CHICAGO (AP) — Twelve-ounce Gloria Diane Hanses, born 3½ months prematurely, died today.

The infant, had she lived, would have equalled the record of the lightest surviving baby known to the American Medical Association.

Smaller than many toy dolls lying under Christmas trees, the baby took her first nourishment Monday night and was on a two-hour feeding schedule in an incubator kept at 88 degrees. She was born Sunday.

SHIP BREAKS IN HALF

Dramatic Rescue Saves 47 Seamen

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP)—An oil tanker with 47 men aboard split in two five miles off the Atlantic coast today and a fleet of helicopters airlifted the 45 crew members to safety.

The captain and mate of the African Queen were the last two to be removed from the stricken tanker, aground in relatively shallow water off this summer resort. They were rescued by Coast Guard boat.

The crew—Liberian, German and Scandinavian—smiled broadly and shook the hands of Coast Guardsmen as they were put down at the Coast Guard station here.

FIRST FEARED FIRE

One of the rescued men said they were at first "afraid of fire because of the big hole" in the forepart of the vessel, which was carrying a load of crude oil. But he said the engine room finally was sealed off.

There was no immediate official explanation of what caused the 590-foot vessel to break up. One report said it might have hit an uncharted reef or a sandbar. Water in the area was reported about 23 feet deep.

Capt. Kai Danielsen of Norway and the first mate remained on board while awaiting instructions from the ship's agents. They later were removed by the cutter Agassiz.

The tanker, owned by African Enterprises Ltd. and registered in Liberia, was coming up the coast from Venezuela and was bound for Paulsboro, N.J., on the Delaware River.

The nine helicopters lifted off two or three men apiece on each trip. The rescue was made from the air because the ocean was too rough for an attempt by surface craft.

The Coast Guard said it is doubtful the ship's cargo can be salvaged.

Water Cut At 'Port' By Slide

(Special to The Times)

PORT ALBERNI — A plywood "plant" was closed down and a sawmill was threatened with closure today as workmen raced against time to repair a 40-foot break in this city's main water supply line.

Half the 11,000 population was using water for drinking only as the last gallons were running out at noon.

Mayor Loran Jordan said the line was expected to be back in operation this afternoon.

RAINS BLAMED

Part of a blue clay hill, midway between the city and its watershed six miles southeast, slipped Monday afternoon and swept away 40 feet of the 16-inch trunk line in a mudslide.

Mayor Jordan said the slide was caused by saturating rains of the past month.

About 15 city workmen and heavy equipment bulldozed and blasted through the night to clear the line's route. New sections of pipe were laid this morning and the hookup was underway at press time.

The south side of the city was left with only an hour's normal water supply — the amount still in the pipe — but citizens "responded beautifully to our radio appeals to use the water only for drinking and sparingly at that," said Mayor Jordan.

RESERVOIR LINK

Water flowed without interruption to the north half of the city which is linked to a reservoir containing a three-day supply.

The MacMillan and Bloedel plywood plant was closed down and 400 employees returned to their homes.

Mayor Jordan said preparations for closing the company's sawmill, also employing about 400, were made in case restoration of the water supply was delayed.

The company loaned the city a 5,000-gallon pumper truck from its Sproat Lake division to increase the standby fire protection equipment.

'MILK FOR HUNGRY CHILDREN'

Thanks!

This is to you from the Victoria Times and on behalf of the Unitarian Service Committee for your unselfish help in the campaign to provide milk for hungry children.

The drive ends Wednesday. There may be a couple of contributors' names that have not yet appeared due to seasonal mail tie-up or other reasons. They will appear however Wednesday or Friday.

The campaign started at the beginning of December. Objective was to raise as much money as possible to ship powdered milk to hungry tots in Korea, India and Hong Kong. This is being done by the U.S.C. While New Year resolutions

3,000 Men Attack; City Cut Off

Castro is believed trying to make it his capital and proclaim a provisional government headed by Dr. Manuel Urrutia, who as a judge once freed the rebel leader.

Reports from Santa Clara were conflicting. Regular rail, road, telephone and telegraph lines to the city—normally an important communications centre—have been cut for almost a week.

Three rebel columns, possibly totalling 3,000 or more men, pushed into the city after encircling it and were trying to link up. The bearded rebels were armed with hand weapons ranging from machine-guns to knives.

In New Orleans, Delta Air Lines said armed Cuban police dragged two protesting American citizens from a plane that stopped in Havana Monday on a flight from Jamaica.

The airlines identified the two as Louis F. Brantley and James W. Reid. Their home towns were not immediately available. An airline official in Atlanta said he had been told the men made uncomplimentary remarks about the Cuban political situation while waiting in the Havana airport lobby.

After the passengers re-boarded the plane, four armed men entered it, knocked down two of the three stewardesses, threatened to shoot several of the passengers, and took the men off at gunpoint, the airline said.

State department officials are investigating.

ATLAS UP LONGER BUT 'DUMB' SOON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—America's Atlas satellite today had a new lease on life.

The defence department announced the Pullman car-sized satellite will orbit the earth for 45 days—more than twice as long as originally expected.

The department estimated that the 8,700-pound satellite, launched on Dec. 18, would re-enter the atmosphere and burn up about Feb. 1. It originally had been expected to orbit for only about 20 days.

The department said the batteries which make the Atlas a talking satellite still are expected to go dead after 20 days. This will mean an end to current experiments in multiple relay communications.

The department attributed the satellite's extended life to the accuracy of the missile guidance system used to hurl it into orbit. It said the system "exceeded expectations."

A spokesman said controllers at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., test centre were able to radio corrections in course to the Atlas as it climbed into orbit.

People and Things

(From Times News Services)
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mayor George Christopher's predecessor in office, Elmer Robinson, warred upon pigeons and gradually became ex-mayor Robinson.

Mayor Christopher, mindful of the wrath Robinson aroused among bird lovers, laid low on the pigeon question. But Monday it sought him out in the person of Councilwoman Mrs. Kathy Zahn, from Albany, across the bay.

"She came bearing the scars suffered by the unwary in all exposed places in this city of gulls and pigeons. Something should be done; a pigeon had messed up her hat."

"The first time this happened I considered it an Act of God," she said, "but it's happened five times since. Some of these pigeons are nice and plump. Let's catch them all with nets and give them to the needy to eat."

The mayor smiled, but promised, "I'll put my department heads right to work on this," adding, "But I wish you'd let me buy you a new hat."

"I have 19 hats. I'm noted for my hats," she said, as she marched, head up, from city hall into the plaza beneath the circling pigeons.

MONTREAL—Carolyn Ruth was crowned Monday night—as Her Majesty Queen of the Garbage Bowl.

She is to preside over a fancy football match on New Year's Day in Montreal West. But her title is too long. So she is just called Miss Left-overs.

BANGOR, Me. — LivesRock dealer Robert Pepper complained in municipal court that he sold a cow to a farmer and didn't get his money.

"Do you want the cow back?" asked Judge James A. Mooney.

"Too late," Pepper replied.

"He's eaten it."

Mooney issued a warrant charging the farmer with stealing mortgaged property.

LONDON — Sir Winston Churchill sat back in a theatre seat today and chuckled as he watched another Churchill fly across the stage with the greatest of ease.

He went to an afternoon showing of the annual favorite, Peter Pan, at the Scala Theatre.

The big attraction? His daughter Sarah was playing Peter, the boy who can fly and never grows up.

SALT LAKE CITY — An apologetic lady bandit robbed a jewelry store Monday, apparently her second holdup in two days.

"I'm sorry I have to do this," she said, pointing a revolver at jeweler Sherman Wright. "But please put the money from the safe in a bag and give it to me."

Before leaving, she looked calmly into the wrist watch case. "I'll take that one," she told Wright. He said she walked off with $30 in cash and an $89 watch.

A woman answering her description held up a filling station Sunday, telling the attendant: "I'm sorry I have to do this." She got about $50 in that job.

Suez Money Peace Mission

LONDON (Reuters)—World Bank President Eugene Black will leave London for Cairo Wednesday in an attempt to settle Anglo-Egyptian financial differences arising from the 1956 Suez intervention, it was announced today.

Meanwhile, huge increases in the financial resources of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund were recommended Monday by the two lending institutions to their 68 member countries.

The bank's authorized capital would be more than doubled—from $10,000,000,000 to $21,000,000,000—but the new money would be pledged by member countries, not put up in cash.

MINE TO REOPEN?

VANCOUVER — F. A. McGonigale, vice-president of the Howe Sound Company, said Monday a decision on whether to reopen Britannia Copper Mine will be made about Jan. 6.

RUSSIA AND U.S. SWAP TEAMS FOR EXHIBITIONS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia has agreed to allow the United States to send machinery, materials and workmen into Moscow to build an exhibition in Sokolniki Park next summer.

In return, Russia was given similar privileges in sponsoring a Soviet science, technology and cultural exhibition in New York City.

The agreement, signed at the state department in a brief ceremony, marked the first time the two countries have exchanged such exhibitions.

Union to Picket All N.Y. Police

NEW YORK (AP)—The Teamsters' Union intends to picket city police headquarters, starting Jan. 12, to dramatize a drive to organize the police into the union.

Henry Feinstein, a teamsters official, said the picketing would be extended gradually to all police installations, including 80 precinct stations, in the metropolis.

Feinstein said the picketing is aimed at Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy, who opposes unionization of the police.

"We are going to give the commissioner a taste of the economic force and pressure of the Teamsters' Union," Feinstein said.

Zeballos Hotel Razed

(FROM CP DISPATCHES)

ZEBALLOS—About a dozen people were safely evacuated Monday night when fire destroyed the Esperanza Hotel, a well-known landmark on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Only two brick chimneys were left standing when the blaze was finally struck out at 9 p.m. The first alarm was turned in about 4 p.m.

The three-story hotel is located in Esperanza Inlet, about 10 miles southwest of here.

R. E. Drew, one of the volunteer firemen, said damage was estimated at $60,000.

SEARCH FOR BODY

PRINCE RUPERT—RCMP are dragging the waters near Port Edward for John Boh, 48, of Port Edward, missing since early Christmas Day.

HEPBURN 'LIAR'

VANCOUVER — Former world champion weightlifter Doug Hepburn was declared a hostile witness and called a liar Monday in police court here.

Hepburn, proprietor of a health studio here, was giving evidence in the trial of two men charged with indecent assault on a woman.

"This man is not only a liar, but a cheap one in my opinion," said Magistrate N. J. Bartman.

Hepburn, called as a Crown witness and later declared hostile, admitted giving a statement to police in which he said he saw one of the men grab the woman's legs and take off some of her clothing.

In court, he said he was "overwrought and disturbed" when he gave the statement and believed he had "misconstrued the whole affair."

NO PLANE CRASH

CRANBROOK—A jet plane breaking the sound barrier was blamed Monday by RCAF officials for a noise which brought a rash of reports that a plane crashed into nearby mountains.

SKULL FRACTURED

NORTH VANCOUVER — A pathologist told a coroner's inquest Monday night that a skull fracture which caused a massive hemorrhage brought death to Mrs. Josephine Herrett whose body was found in the bedroom of her suite on Boxing Day.

James Arthur Mason, 40, manager of the roofing firm of which the woman was president, has been charged with murder in her death. He is scheduled to reappear in court Jan. 5.

Dr. T. R. Harmon told the inquest jury that, besides the skull fracture, Mrs. Herrett had bruises on her head, in the armpits and on the abdomen and one arm and knee.

TUNNEL 'DREAM'

VANCOUVER — Highway Minister P. A. Gagliardi today labelled as a "nice dream" a proposal by Ald. Halford Wilson of Vancouver that a multi-million dollar tunnel be built under Burrard Inlet connecting North Vancouver and Vancouver.

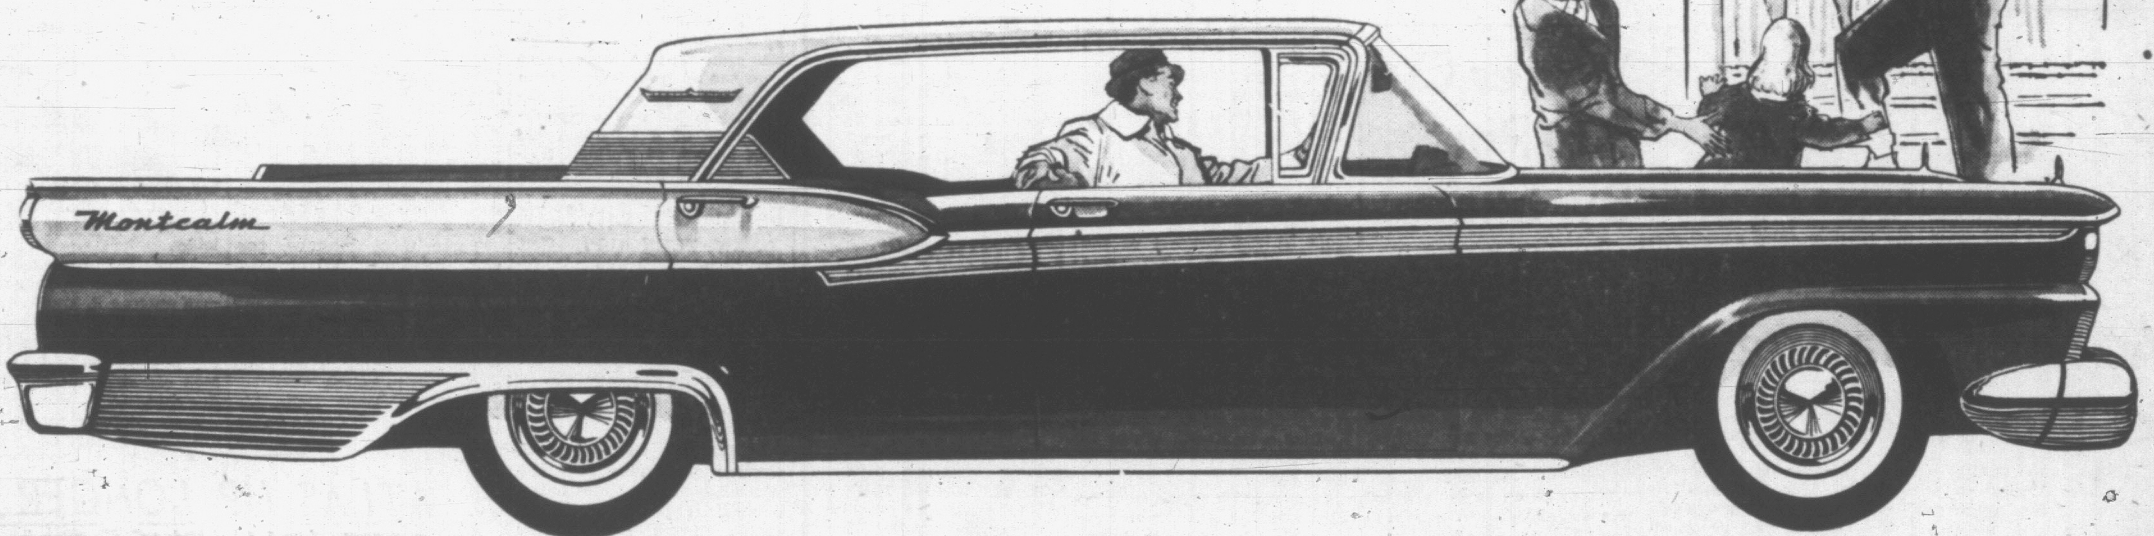

The tunnel, designed to carry railway and bus and truck traffic on one level and automobile traffic on another, was proposed to city council by Ald. Wilson.

COMFORT ARRIVES IN A BIG NEW

Meteor Montcalm 4-door hardtop, one of Ford of Canada's fine cars

Drive any of four new Meteor Montcalm models. A few happy miles and you'll know comfort has indeed arrived. And the package has never been more beautiful. The new Montcalm has a distinctive roofline that bears the unmistakable good looks of classic newness beyond its price. For the new Montcalms are only a few dollars more than the handsome Meteor Rideau 500's.

When you step into the new Montcalm you'll be surprised at the interior room and the look of luxury all about you. Here is move-around room for six big passengers. A real increase in headroom, even though the Montcalm sits low to the ground.

In fact, you almost regret a journey's end. Thanks to Meteor's four-way ball joint front suspension, bumps are absorbed before they're felt. A low centre of gravity makes cornering sway-free and controlled—another advantage of Meteor's Balanced-Ride.

Yes there's much to see, much to appreciate in the new Meteor Montcalm series. In styling, riding comfort, passenger room and performance, the Montcalm offers you classic newness beyond its price.

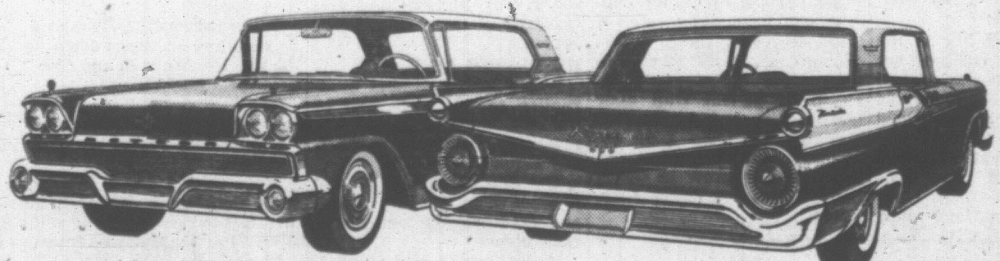

See your Meteor dealer soon. Move up to the all-new Meteor Montcalm.

SAVE, SAVE, SAVE!

"WHAT HAVE THEY GOT THAT I HAVEN'T GOT?" this young cutie seemed to ask Times photographer Bill Halkett when he photographed winsome Patricia Anne, seven-month-old daughter of Mr. and

Mrs. R. L. Moores, 1563 Monterey, as she scanned the Saturday Times photo strip of babies of the month selected in 1958. Proud parents phoned Times and said Patricia could beat all of them.

... HERE AND THERE ... With NORMAN CRIBBENS

I hear the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) is preparing a monster haggis for New Year's Eve.

Shortly before the dramatic hour, the haggis will be wheeled into the Bay Street Armories and duly stabbed with a dirk wielded by Col. Jack Fawcett.

Then, as a bugler in the balcony heralds in the New Year, the balloons will float down from the ceiling. . . . The English may excel at Christmas but it takes a Scot to make a truly pagan New Year festival.

Do you believe in nightmares? I didn't until I dreamed of a racehorse running amok in the sedate Empress Hotel lounge.

Said a learned Victoria psychologist: "The horse was a symbol of yourself. You wanted to run amok so, in your dream, you deputized a horse to do it for you."

Oh yes? That lively TV quiz program Tic Tac Dough committed a capital offence the other evening by announcing from New York that Victoria is the capital of Vancouver Island and is affiliated with Canada.

What was worse, the program attributed this information to the Encyclopedia Britannica as the very last word on the subject.

Either they misread the encyclopedia or they got hold of a very ancient copy! Anyhow George Andrews of 5121 Cordova Bay had a bit of fun with Tic Tac Dough. He sent them a postcard:

"Who dropped the clanger—the M.C., the Encyclopedia Britannica or the man who answers the questions?"

This column is indebted to the late Tom Merriman for many revealing and inspiring anecdotes of life in the Veterans' Hospital—his last refuge.

With characteristic modesty, Tom insisted that his name should not be linked with these items. Now he is no longer with us, I feel justified in naming him as the source of much that was clean and refreshing in the lives of those who carry on the battle of life within these walls.

To the end Tom was a chronicler of humanity at its best.

Overflow Chapel For Funeral Of Jack Bacon

More than 400 persons attended the funeral services Monday at Sands' Mortuary for prominent city sportsman Jack Bacon who died Christmas Day, aged 61.

The chapel itself was filled, and a large number stood in the vestibule. Mr. Bacon was president of Victoria Shamrock Lacrosse Club.

One side of the chapel was filled with members of the printing fraternity. Mr. Bacon was assistant Queen's "rifer" at the time of his death.

Flowers received were so numerous they were sent to city hospitals.

Rev. Canon George Biddle officiated. Cremation followed.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: George Frederick Clifford, 1010 Balmoral, $10 for driving without fenders.

Maurice Leroy Kane, RCN, $25 for driving without a licence.

Albert James Robinson, RCN, $10 for driving without a licence and $10 for driving through a red light.

Gary R. Joneson, RCN, $25 and $3.50 costs for driving without a licence and $10 for driving through a red light.

Robert Joseph Cook, 2553 Vancouver, $35 for careless driving.

Thomas Cawley, 478 Burnside; Louis E. Bond, 1106 Kings, $35 and licence suspension each for careless driving.

'Name the Lice' Says Taxi Chief

"Name names" Cecil A. Rawlings, president of the Victoria Taxi Owners' Association, demanded today of Mayor Percy Scourrah, who Monday referred to bootlegging taxi drivers as "these lice."

"We in the association feel strongly about this. If the mayor is going to call people 'lice,' he had better name the names," Mr. Rawlings said.

The mayor made his remarks as chairman of the police commission.

Reputable companies, said the association president, will not tolerate bootlegging practices.

The mayor's statement, he said, left the impression that all taxi concerns were living on the thin side of the law in relation to liquor.

"After all, we have a reputation to think of," said Mr. Rawlings.

He pointed out that reputable companies will not even pick up a "bottle" for customers; they must make their own liquor store purchases.

Cab Driver Cleared In Fatality

A charge of careless driving against a Nanaimo cab driver involved in a fatal accident here in October was dismissed in city police court today.

Chi Cheong Mak was charged after the death of pedestrian Axel Couper, 78, of 1508 Gladstone, 10 days following the accident Oct. 18.

Accused told the court he had seen a flash of light resembling a pedestrian when he was about 200 feet from the intersection of Cook and Caledonia travelling north on Cook.

Rain and traffic were heavy at the time as crowds came away from a hockey game at 10:15 p.m.

Mak said he saw the pedestrian at the intersection, then between headlights of an oncoming car in a line of traffic as the figure seemed to run toward the northeast corner of the intersection.

He instinctively applied brakes, he said.

There was an impact but the pedestrian was not dragged, Mak said.

He said he thought the pedestrian may have been in collision with an oncoming car, which paused then left the scene, then with his own car.

Witness Herbert Smith said he heard a bang and saw a hat and boot fall into the air. It was his first impression that the cab and the other car mentioned by Mak had sideswiped.

Wilfred J. Humphreys, no fixed address, was fined $25 and ordered to pay $48.51 damages when he pleaded guilty in Esquimalt police court Monday to wilful damage under $50 value.

Police charged Humphreys with breaking a window Dec. 15 at 1163 Colville, property of Thomas J. Jones.

Rotary Club of Victoria children's party will be held at noon Wednesday in the Empress Hotel.

Eighteen-year-old Levi Thomas Swain, RCN, pleaded guilty in city court today to being a minor in possession of liquor.

Police said Swain had a 26-ounce bottle of rum when checked.

"What were you going to do with it?" Magistrate H. C. Hall wanted to know.

"I was going to drink it, sir," Swain replied.

The magistrate shook his head and fined the seaman $15.

The Canadian National Railway Veterans' Association will meet Friday at 2 p.m. in the Knights of Pythias Hall.

Election of officers will be held.

Victoria Metal Trades Council will pick a new president to replace Bill Felton, who resigned in November, when annual elections are held Jan. 27.

400 at Funeral Of Songhees' Percy Ross

More than 400 persons, including Indians from throughout Vancouver Island and the Mainland, attended solemn requiem mass at 10 a.m. today in Queen of Peace Church for Chief Percy Ross of the Songhees Indian band.

Rev. Lewis MacLellan, who conducted the service, termed the turnout of remembrance "magnificent, absolutely magnificent. There were even people standing. The church was packed."

Cars lined the streets for blocks adjacent to the church, on Old Esquimalt Road.

A police escort accompanied the funeral cortege to Ross Bay cemetery.

Mr. Ross died in his sleep early Christmas morning, aged 60.

He was one of the best-known Indians in British Columbia due to his work over the years on behalf of the people of the Songhees band.

Victoria Metal Trades Council will pick a new president to replace Bill Felton, who resigned in November, when annual elections are held Jan. 27.

'All the Nude That's Fit to Squint'

The call is out for nudes. Victoria's art colony has, literally, been denuded; they want persons to pose in the altogether.

This is posing a problem: No takers. Director of education and extension at the Victoria Art Gallery, Moncreiff Williamson says, "We have no one at the moment to pose for the 'life' classes."

Plenty of persons will pose for artists, but they insist on attire, even partial attire.

This cannot be, Mr. Williamson explains. Studies of nudes are an essential and important training for artists. There are, at present, between 20 and 30 nudeless students in Art Gallery adult classes who could benefit.

Most are women. Male nudes are also needed. They wear trunks.

All "life" classes are supervised, the director points out, emphasizing that the entire concept of nude studies is "adult."

Nude types must also be adult; but apart from this requirement they can be on the youngish side or, perhaps, somewhat withered. All is art.

There's no shortage of nude models in Vancouver, Mr. Williamson says. And in England, where he comes from, buff models practically fall over themselves to obtain posing commissions.

Pay here is $3 to $5 for an hour.

"It's not easy. They must hold fixed poses for a long period of time."

Interested posers may contact Mr. Williamson at the gallery.

New Hope In CPR Dispute

New hope that the long-simmering Canadian Pacific Coast Steamships dispute could be settled early in the New Year was voiced today by an official of one of three unions seeking pay increases from the company.

Denis McKeown, business agent in Vancouver of the Marine Engineers, told The Times he planned to re-open talks with the company "in a few days."

Last discussions between the union and company were held in August.

OTHER FACTS

Mr. McKeown said he based his optimism on the effect on the company of other pay settlements in the industry since the CPR dispute erupted in a strike in May.

"The passing of time since then has brought changes in patterns of negotiation which cause me to believe discussions now will be worthwhile," he said.

"Rates of pay have changed and there have been certain settlements which might have had an effect on CPR. I am more hopeful now than I have been for some time—that we can reach agreement."

NEW FIGURE

The engineers earlier sought a 26 per cent pay boost, but Mr. McKeown indicated this figure had been changed.

"When I go into the talks I will reveal the figure then," he said. "I don't want to disclose it at present."

Before the strike, a conciliation board majority report recommended the engineers and Merchant Service Guild get a 19 per cent pay hike, but this was rejected by the company, which offered 8 per cent.

The guild is expected to go along with the engineers in the new talks.

Meanwhile, the engineers' president Richard Greaves recently made two trips to Ottawa in an attempt to urge the government to lift its control over the CPR fleet and bring the dispute to settlement.

The line is now operating under control of a federal administrator, which will end in arbitration if no settlement is reached between the parties.

Island Production Of Coal Lagging

Coal production on Vancouver Island continues to lag behind 1957 according to a report for November issued today by the provincial mines department.

RESERVE

The remaining $25,000 will be "in reserve" for use either to increase the bounty—or by the biologist teams.

United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union business agent Homer Stevens said the plan would help maintain salmon output in B.C. rivers.

He described the dogfish as a "predator" and a pest which feeds on herring and salmon.

"The fish travel in huge schools," he said, "and each fish can be as large as four feet in length."

He said the government plan had already been completed and would be put into operation "very soon, probably early in the new year."

26 Officers Named In Half-Yearly List

Six Pacific Command officers are named in the RCN's half-yearly promotion list announced today by naval headquarters.

Promoted from commander to captain is Raymond Phillips, commanding officer of HMCS Fraser.

Promoted to commander are: Lt.-Cmdr. Vincent J. Murphy, commanding officer of HMCS Sussexvale; Lt.-Cmdr. Robert W. Cocks, commanding officer of HMCS Antigonish, and Lt.-Cmdr. George K. Inglis, assistant manager, engineering department, HMC Dockyard.

A total of 26 officers—20 regular and six reserve—received promotions.

The others are: To be surgeon captain, Surgeon Cmdr. George W. Chapman.

To be commander: Lt.-Cmdr. Reginald C. Hayden, Leslie J. Hutchins, Mark W. Mayo, Robert H. Falls, Bernard C. Thillaye, Donald P. Nash, John F. Frank, Carl W. Ross, Bernard S. Lake, J. L. Neveu, Robert C. Willis, John K. Power, John E. Morgan. To be commander, reserve: Robert Graham Bell, W. Danglefield, John G. Chance, Alexander K. Glashan, Harvey D. Hebb and Douglas W. Padell.

Briggs Fund Chairman Appointed

Jack Barraclough of Victoria has been named chairman of the trustees who will administer a fund being raised in support of H. Lee Briggs, former B.C. Power Commission general manager, in his appearance before the Shrum Royal Commission.

He was chosen at a meeting of the trustees over the weekend with Vernon H. Chadwick, the administrator of the fund. The other trustees are: Air Marshal Sir Philip Livingston, Dr. Gordon H. Grant and Col. E. B. Westby.

Purpose of the fund is purely to provide money so that all possible evidence can be placed before the Shrum commission dealing with the power problem.

The trustees will not solicit funds from anyone, but will see that any donations made are used for the purpose intended.

All donations are to be sent to Chadwick, Beacom & Co., 227 Columbia St., New Westminster.

Near-Record Warmth Due Here Wednesday

Temperature Wednesday will hit a near-record 52 degrees, weatherman Bill MacKie said today.

Today's peak was expected to be around 48 degrees, and tonight will see a drop of only four degrees.

"This is much better than the average for this time of year—41 degrees."

Fog was patchily heavy during the night, mostly at sea.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

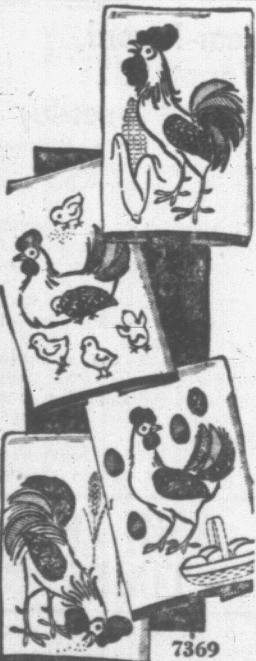

Can't 'Fight It Out' 'So Cry It Out,' Girls

Today I am going to give you some quotes which highly recommend the feminine tear-drop—for sentimental reasons as well as for health.

Many physicians and psychologists feel that women need a release in tears occasionally. After all, a woman cannot "fight out" physically her resentments and anger as a man can, without great penalty in attractiveness.

Even if a woman raises her voice, she is in danger of being considered a fishwife or a shrew. I never have been able to work out in my own mind or to my satisfaction, why a woman is so much less attractive or appealing when angry than a man is. I will think this over for another few years and let you know what I come up with.

Well, here we go with some old thoughts for the new year; these authors believed in feminine tears!

DEAR ABBY...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: For "Animal Lover" who wrote: "People can ask for food when they're hungry and tell you where it hurts when they're sick, but dogs and cats have to depend on humans." God wasn't as generous with some children as He was with animals. If "Animal Lover" was with me just one of the many nights I prayed my little girl could tell me where it was hurting her. I think she'd change her mind. My child is over 5 years old but she doesn't know me from Adam. If people have money and don't know what to do with it, there are an awful lot of retarded children who couldn't find a glass of milk if it was two feet away from them. I'll bet a cat could.

CHILD LOVER

DEAR ABBY: I could kick myself for letting this go on for 30 years but I kept thinking things would change. Have you any idea how humiliating it is for a wife to BEG her husband for every dime he gives her? I never knew what it was to have an extra penny in my purse. It is a war to get a little money for the collection plate. I never was foolish with money. I make all my own clothes (but I can't make my shoes) do all my own work and when a gift is due I can knit, crochet or sew it. Please answer this in the paper and give my husband the works. He deserves it.

SLOW BURN

DEAR SLOW: (and you WERE slow, Lady). You can't teach an old dog new tricks but yours could be a valuable lesson for others. Newlyweds should set up a budget, and the wife should have an "allowance" to call her own—even if it's only two dollars a week.

DEAR ABBY: How can a 13-year-old girl tell her own mother to please wash the dishes with soap? My mother just rinses them under the hot water and says, "That's good enough." My father also never washes the ring out of the bathtub after himself. Once I counted six rings. I've tried everything but it doesn't do any good. All I get is ridicule when I tell them to use soap. They call me "PRINCESS GRACE." What can I do, Abby?

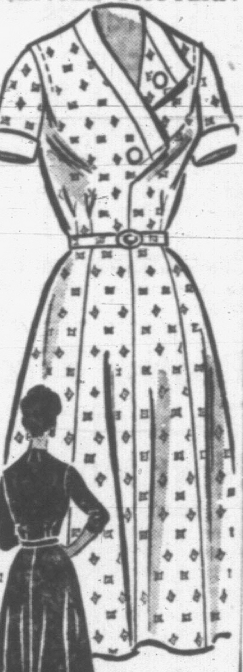

DEAR GRACE: Don't try to educate your parents, just quietly honor your mother and father and use lots of soap.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HONEYBUN: He's taking too many detours off the straight and narrow. Tell that truck driver to hit the road.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper, stamped envelope.

If you want a collection of Abby's best letters and answers in one book, ask your bookstore to get "DEAR ABBY" for you.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Housekeepers Are People:

I can't help but write to commend you on your article about respecting housekeepers.

I happen to be one and prefer to be called by my married name. (Let's suppose it is Mrs. Hamilton). I object to being referred to as "the woman," which some employers do when speaking to others about me. Before I came here from England, I was a school secretary for some years and before that a shop assistant, but the employment agency here told me that because of my age the only work I could get was that of housekeeper.

So, you see, some of us have to take what we can get when we have to earn a living.

Louise Davis Answers:

Dear Mrs. Hamilton: How anyone can refer to a housekeeper or anyone as "the woman" is beyond my comprehension. It is as though she were a chattel or just a thing!

A housekeeper is as human as her employers and many times she has more on the ball! As a human being, she has the right that her human dignity be respected. If she wishes to be called "Mrs. Hamilton," no one should call her anything else. Her wish to be called that doesn't mean that Mrs. Hamilton considers herself above her employer. Her job is one thing. It can be anything from menial to that of an executive. But she is a person.

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP)—World featherweight boxing champion Hogan (Kid) Bassey received an offer today to defend his title in an outdoor bout in Nottingham next summer. His manager, George Biddles, tentatively accepted.

British featherweight champion Charlie Hill, British Empire champion Percy Lewis, Bobby Neill of Scotland and Sergio Caprari of Italy will take part in the eliminations.

'Hands Off'
Berlin, West
Tells Mr. K

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States, Britain and France today sent to Moscow their firm rejection of Russia's demand that the Western Big Three get out of Berlin by June 1.

State department spokesman Joseph W. Reap announced that the "Hands-off-Berlin" notes have been sent to the Russian capital and said they are expected to be delivered to the Soviet government shortly.

The Western notes were drafted during a month-long series of consultations in Washington, London, Paris and Bonn. They flatly turn down Russia's near-ultimatum that the West pull out of West Berlin by June 1 and let it become a free city.

Russia has warned that failure to withdraw would mean that the Western powers would have to deal with the East German Communist regime, which they refuse to recognize.

NO RIGHT TO QUIT

Officials said the notes not only reject the "free city" proposal but contend that Russia has no right to unilaterally back out of the four-power occupation agreement.

The notes are reported to leave a face-saving-out for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, if he is looking for one, as some Western diplomats believe.

This consists of an offer by Britain, France and the United States to discuss the Berlin question if it is done within the broader framework of an all-European settlement and European security measures.

Canada's Extremes
High—Victoria 48
Low—Port Arthur—16Mother Planned
To Do It Herself

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan once planned to kill her pregnant daughter-in-law with her own hands, a neighbor told a secret grand jury hearing.

The district attorney released the grand jury transcript to the press today. Moments before Mrs. Duncan was led into a jammed courtroom and arraigned for the murder of her son's wife.

Two laborers who have confessed the strangulation of attractive Olga Duncan were not in court. The judge assigned two attorneys to represent them.

Mrs. Emma Shortt, 83, told the grand jury that Mrs. Duncan had asked her to lure the daughter-in-law to Mrs. Shortt's apartment.

CHOKE AND POISON

Mrs. Shortt, who lived in the same building as Mrs. Duncan, testified:

"When she got her in my apartment, she would have her sit in a chair that is against my closet. Mrs. Duncan would be in the closet. She would take a rope and put it around her (Olga's) throat and choke her. She would throw this poison in her eyes."

Mrs. Shortt said she indignantly refused to take part in the plot. She also told the jurors that Mrs. Duncan's son, Frank Duncan, was very much in love with his wife.

Mrs. Duncan's next court appearance was set for Jan. 6. Meanwhile, a car-hop said Monday that early last month Mrs. Duncan approached her with an offer to kill Olga.

Mrs. Barbara Jean Reed, 26, giving details of her testimony before the Ventura County grand jury, refused to tell reporters the amount Mrs. Duncan offered.

"I can disappear, too, you know," said Mrs. Reed. "I can't talk too much." She did not elaborate.

Producers
On Strike
Against CBC

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation said it is willing and ready to resume talks with its striking television producers here, but at noon there was no indication that discussions to break the deadlock would be resumed today.

The Crown-owned corporation made the statement as picket lines patrolled entrances to the CBC building in a bid for recognition of their new union.

The walkout of the 74 television producers got a promise of support earlier today from other unions of CBC employees, but the picket lines were broken today by news writers and some technicians.

STATIONS ON AIR

The English-language CBF and the French-language CBF radio went on the air and first news broadcasts went out as usual at 7 a.m.

Montreal members of the Canadian Wire Service Guild—a branch of the American Newspaper Guild—voted Monday night to support the producers' walkout but were overruled this morning by their national headquarters in Toronto.

Ken Withers, program director for CBF, said today there were enough technicians and supervisory personnel available to provide television and radio programs from their national headquarters in Toronto.

HAVANA, Cuba.—Cuban rebels struck into the heart of Havana province today with a daring raid on an explosives depot in which they dynamited the huge stores of ammunition they could not carry away.

The raid on a privately-owned explosives depot at Guanabacoa across the bay from Havana followed rebel claims to have smashed government forces in central and eastern Cuba. The rebels were boasting they were "at the doors of triumph."

Government sources disputed the sweeping rebel claims but admitted there was heavy fighting around the city of Santa Clara in central Cuba where the rebels have claimed major successes in street fighting.

The army said its forces were on the offensive in central Cuba and were driving the rebels ahead of them despite rebel propaganda broadcasts to "create unrest."

Heavy Casualties on Both Sides

Informed sources said casualties were heavy on both sides. One private informant estimated nearly 1,000 men had been killed or wounded.

The government used bombers, tanks, armored cars and artillery to support troops fighting from house to house against the outnumbered infantrymen of rebel leader Fidel Castro. Government sources claimed rebels were being dislodged from key positions.

Thousands of civilians fled Santa Clara. The city of 150,000 persons is 160 miles east of Havana.

The rebels gained control of several other towns in the heart of Las Villas Province and much of the countryside.

If the rebels win Las Villas, government forces fighting rebels farther east would be cut off by land from Havana. Such a rebel victory might also touch off further uprising against Batista. It also would cut the government off from its main source of income, the sugar cane crop scheduled for harvesting soon in eastern Cuba.

The main rebel forces continued trying to capture Santiago, capital of easternmost Oriente Province and one of the few government strongpoints left in Oriente. Cam-

Dramatic Rescue
On East Coast

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP)—An oil tanker with 47 men aboard split in two five miles off the Atlantic coast today and a fleet of helicopters airlifted the 45 crew members to safety.

The captain and mate of the African Queen were the last two to be removed from the stricken tanker, aground in relatively shallow water off this summer resort. They were rescued by Coast Guard boat.

The crew—Liberian, German and Scandinavian—smiled broadly and shook the hands of Coast Guardsmen as they were put down at the Coast Guard station here.

FIRST FEARED FIRE

One of the rescued men said they were at first "afraid of fire because of the big hole" in the forepart of the vessel, which was carrying a load of crude oil. But he said the engine room finally was sealed off.

There was no immediate official explanation of what caused the 590-foot vessel to break up. One report said it might have hit an uncharted reef or a sandbar. Water in the area was reported about 23 feet deep.

Capt. Kia Danielson of Norway and the first mate remained on board while awaiting instructions from the ship's agents. They later were removed by the cutter Agassiz.

The nine helicopters lifted off two or three men apiece on each trip. The rescue was made from the air because the ocean was too rough for an attempt by surface craft.

The Coast Guard said it is doubtful the ship's cargo can be salvaged.

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A New Westminster man is the only Canadian known to be aboard the Liberian tanker African Queen, which broke apart today off Maryland.

Kaarlo Eriksson, 46, the ship's chief engineer, has been with the tanker since it was launched three years ago in Germany.

Water Cut
At 'Port'
By Slide

(Special to The Times)

PORT ALBERNI—A plywood plant was closed down and a sawmill was threatened with closure today as workmen raced against time to repair a 40-foot break in this city's main water supply line.

Half the 11,000 population was using water for drinking only as the last gallons were running out at noon.

Mayor Loran Jordan said the line was expected to be back in operation this afternoon.

RAINS BLAMED

Part of a blue clay hill, midway between the city and its watershed six miles southeast, slipped Monday afternoon and swept away 40 feet of the 16-inch trunk line in a mudslide. Mayor Jordan said the slide was caused by saturating rains of the past month.

About 15 city workmen and heavy equipment bulldozed and blasted through the night to clear the line's route. New sections of pipe were laid this morning and the hookup was underway at press time.

The south side of the city was left with only an hour's normal water supply—the amount still in the pipe—but citizens "responded beautifully" to our radio appeals to use the water only for drinking and sparingly at that, said Mayor Jordan.

RESERVOIR LINK

Water flowed without interruption to the north half of the city which is linked to a

ATLAS UP LONGER
BUT 'DUMB' SOON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—America's Atlas satellite today had a new lease on life.

The defence department announced the Pullman car-sized satellite will orbit the earth for 45 days—more than twice as long as originally expected.

The department estimated that the 8,700-pound satellite, launched on Dec. 18, would re-enter the atmosphere and burn up about Feb. 1. It originally had been expected to orbit for only about 20 days.

The department said the batteries which make the Atlas a talking satellite still are expected to go dead after 20 days. This will mean an end to current experiments in multiple relay communications.

The department attributed the satellite's extended life to the accuracy of the missile guidance system used to hurl it into orbit. It said the system "exceeded expectations."

A spokesman said controllers at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., test centre were able to radio corrections in course to the Atlas as it climbed into orbit.

3 Years for Theft

UCLUELET (CP)—Albert Frederick Wallace of Tofino was sentenced to three years in prison by Magistrate Joseph Webb Monday for theft of $2,579 while he was secretary-treasurer of a Canadian Legion branch at Tofino. Wallace pleaded guilty.

'MILK FOR HUNGRY CHILDREN'

Thanks! This is to you from the Victoria Times and on behalf of the Unitarian Service Committee for your unselfish help in the campaign to provide milk for hungry children.

The drive ends Wednesday. There may be a couple of contributors' names that have not yet appeared due to seasonal mail tie-up or other reasons. They will appear however Wednesday or Friday.

The campaign started at the beginning of December. Objective was to raise as much money as possible to ship powdered milk to hungry tots in Korea, India and Hong Kong. This is being done by the USC.

While New Year resolutions

are seemingly made to be broken, there's one resolution that can be made without ability to later wiggle out—posting a contribution to the "Milk for Hungry Children Fund," care of the Times office on Broad Street or at the Fountain Circle. There is still time.

BOOST TONIGHT

It is hoped the fund will be nicely swelled tonight when John "Around the World" Manning gives his illustrated lecture at Oak Bay Junior High. A collection will be taken at the intermission, with all proceeds going to the fund. The Times is sponsoring the lecture and taking care of all incidental expenses.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mayor George Christ-opher's predecessor in office, Elmer Robinson, warred upon pigeons and gradually became ex-mayor Robinson. Mayor Christopher, mindful of the wrath Robinson aroused among bird lovers, laid low on the pigeon question. But Monday it sought him out in the person of Councilwoman Mrs. Kathy Zahn, from Al-bany, across the bay.

She came bearing the scars suffered by the unwary in all exposed places in this city of gulls and pigeons. Something should be done, a pigeon had messed up her hat.

"The first time this hap-pened I considered it an Act of God," she said, "but it's happened five times since. Some of these pigeons are nice and plump. Let's catch them all with nets and give them to the needy to eat."

The mayor shied, but prom-ised, "I'll put my department heads right to work on this," adding, "But I wish you'd let me buy you a new hat."

"I have 19 hats. I'm noted for my hats," she said, as she marched, head up, from city hall into the plaza beneath the circling pigeons.

EUGENE BLACK... World Bank acts.

Suez Money Peace Mission

LONDON (Reuters)—World Bank President Eugene Black will leave London for Cairo Wednesday in an attempt to settle Anglo-Egyptian financial differences arising from the 1956 Suez intervention, it was announced today.

Meanwhile, huge increases in the financial resources of the World Bank and Interna-tional Monetary Fund were recommended Monday by the two lending institutions to their 68 member countries.

The bank's authorized capital would be more than doubled—from $10,000,000,000 to $21,000,000,000—but the new money would be pledged by member countries, not put up in cash.

MINE TO REOPEN?

VANCOUVER—F. A. Mc-Gonigale, vice-president of the Howe Sound Company, said Monday a decision on whether to reopen Britannia Copper Mine will be made about Jan. 6.

RUSSIA AND U.S. SWAP TEAMS FOR EXHIBITIONS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia has agreed to allow the United States to send machinery, materials and workmen into Moscow to build an exhibition in Sokolniki Park next summer.

In return, Russia was given similar privileges in sponsoring a Soviet science, technology and cultural ex-hibition in New York City.

The agreement, signed at the state department in a brief ceremony, marked the first time the two countries have exchanged such exhibitions.

Union to Picket All N.Y. Police

NEW YORK (AP)—The Teamsters' Union intends to picket city police headquarters, starting Jan. 12, to dramatize a drive to organize the police into the union.

Henry Feinstein, a teamsters official, said the picketing would be extended gradually to all police installations, includ-ing 80 precinct stations, in the metropolis.

Feinstein said the picketing is aimed at Police Commis-sioner Stephen P. Kennedy, who opposes unionization of the police.

"We are going to give the commissioner a taste of the economic force and pressure of the Teamsters' Union," Feinstein said.

"His threat to fire policemen for joining the Teamsters' Union makes him unfair to our union and to all of organized labor."

Feinstein is leading a nation-wide campaign to bring all policemen, firemen and other state, county and municipal workers into the union. The drive was announced last month by Teamsters' president James R. Hoffa.

Feinstein said the threatened 40-man picket line would re-main outside police headquar-ters for an indefinite period.

Other picket lines will go up outside police depots and sup-ply stations, Feinstein said, in an effort to cut off deliveries of fuel and other items.

Feinstein, president of Team-siers' local 237, said Kennedy "will freeze in his office."

Zeballos Hotel Razed

(FROM CP DISPATCHES)

ZEBALLOS—About a dozen people were safely evacuated Monday night when fire de-stroyed the Esperanza Hotel, a well-known landmark on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Only two brick chimneys were left standing when the blaze was finally struck out at 9 p.m. The first alarm was turned in about 4 p.m.

The three-storey hotel is lo-cated in Esperanza Inlet, about 10 miles southwest of here.

R. E. Drew, one of the vol-unteer firemen, said damage was estimated at $60,000.

HEPBURN 'LIAR'

VANCOUVER—Former world champion weightlifter Doug Hepburn was declared a hostile witness and called a liar Monday in police court here.

Hepburn, proprietor of a health studio here, was giving evidence in the trial of two men charged with indecent as-sault on a woman.

"This man is not only a liar, but a cheap one in my opinion," said Magistrate N. J. Bartman.

Hepburn, called as a Crown witness and later declared hos-tile, admitted giving a state-ment to police in which he said he saw one of the men grab the woman's legs and take off some of her clothing.

In court, he said he was "overwrought and disturbed" when he gave the statement and believed he had "miscon-strued the whole affair."

NO PLANE CRASH

CRANBROOK—A jet plane breaking the sound barrier was blamed Monday by RCAF officials for a noise which brought a rash of reports that a plane crashed into nearby moun-tains.

SKULL FRACTURED

NORTH VANCOUVER—A pathologist told a coroner's inquest Monday night that a skull fracture which caused a massive hemorrhage brought death to Mrs. Josephine Her-rett, whose body was found in the bedroom of her suite on Boxing Day.

James Arthur Mason, 40, manager of the roofing firm of which the woman was presi-dent, has been charged with murder in her death. He is scheduled to reappear in court Jan. 5.

Dr. T. R. Harmon told the inquest jury that, besides the skull fracture, Mrs. Herrett had bruises on her head, in the armpits and on the abdomen and one arm and knee.

TUNNEL 'DREAM'

VANCOUVER—Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi today labelled as a "nice dream" a proposal by Ald. Halford Wil-son of Vancouver that a multi-million dollar tunnel be built under Burrard Inlet connecting North Vancouver and Vancou-ver.

COMFORT ARRIVES
IN A BIG NEW

Meteor Montcalm 4-door hardtop, one of Ford of Canada's fine cars

Drive any of four new Meteor Montcalm models. A few happy miles and you'll know comfort has indeed arrived. And the package has never been more beautiful. The new Montcalm has a distinctive roofline that bears the unmistakable good looks of classic newness beyond its price. For the new Montcalms are only a few dollars more than the handsome Meteor Rideau 500's.

When you step into the new Montcalm you'll be surprised at the interior room and the look of luxury all about you. Here is move-around room for six big passengers. A real increase in headroom, even though the Montcalm sits low to the ground.

There's a big car feel to this newest Meteor—a result of a rugged frame and a quiet, solid body.

In fact, you almost regret a journey's end. Thanks to Meteor's four-way ball joint front suspension, bumps are absorbed before they're felt. A low centre of gravity makes cornering sway-free and controlled—another advantage of Meteor's Balanced-Ride.

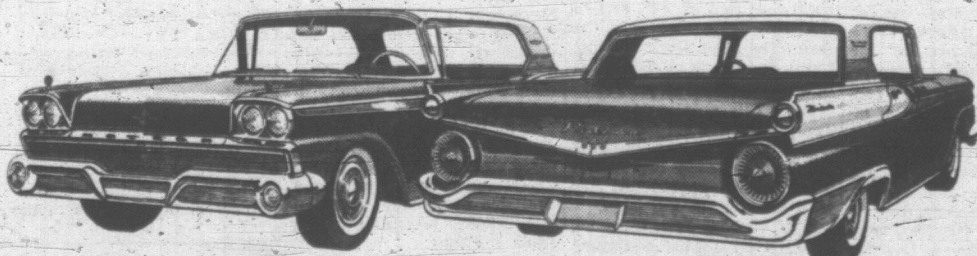

Yes there's much to see, much to appreciate in the new Meteor Montcalm series. In styling, riding comfort, passenger room and performance, the Montcalm offers you classic newness beyond its price.

See your Meteor dealer soon. Move up to the all-new Meteor Montcalm.
